Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj is an inspiration for the country: Amit Shah

(Standard Post Bureau)

Raigad, April 12 : Union Home Minister Amit Shah said on Saturday that Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj is an inspiration for the country and the world.

Addressing a programme at Raigad on the occasion of the 345th death anniversary of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, the Union Home Minister said:

"I bow to Rajmata Jijau. She not only gave birth to Shivaji, but also gave the idea of ??Swaraj to the child Shivaji. Rajmata Jijau did the work of creating the founder of Hindavi Swarajya. When I greeted Shivaji at the place where the golden throne was, the emotions that surged in my heart cannot be expressed in words," said Amit Shah.

"Maharaj dedicated his life for Swarajya and Swadharma, and the work of transforming Maharashtra, which was surrounded by Adilshahi and Nizamshahi, into Hindavi Swarajya," said Shah. "After that, the Marathas put up saffron flags without fear of arrest. At the time of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj's birth, Maharashtra was immersed in darkness. People began to consider talking about Swadharma and Swarajya a crime. But Shivaji took a pledge to establish Swarajya and to hoist the saffron flag. I have read the biographies of many heroes till now. But I have not seen such courage in any of them," said the Union Home Minister.

"I consider it my fortune to have been invited to this program on the death anniversary of Chhatrapati Shivaji. Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj did not have wealth, the past was not with him, he had no idea about the future. But he created it with the concept of Swarajya and gradually ended the Mughal rule that had been going on for 100 years.

"When Shivaji Maharaj's followers reached the point of arrest, when they reached Tamil Nadu and Bengal, people sighed that now our country, our culture has been saved. Let us resolve today that when 100 years of independence are completed, our country will be number one on all fronts," he added.

"These thoughts were created by Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj. Jijau planted the seed of Swarajya in Chhatrapati Shivaji. Later, it became a banyan tree. By the time Aurangzeb came after Shivaji Maharaj, Chhatrapati Sambhaji Maharaj, Rajaram Maharaj, Tara Rani, Santaji, Dhanaji all fought and their tombs were built here," Shah added.

Among those present on the stage with the Union Home Minister were Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis, Deputy Situated along the Line of Control, Simari is a divided village, with one half lying across in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK). The border village is designated as India's polling booth number one.

Until now, the villagers struggled with limited power and primitive cooking facilities.

Were Abdullahs "complicit or careless"? LoP targets NC over past killings

Srinagar, April 12 (UNI) : Leader of Opposition and BJP legislator Sunil Sharma on Saturday launched a sharp attack on the National Conference (NC), questioning the party over the killing of nearly 10,000 of its workers.

He asked whether the NC leadership was "complicit in the killings, hand in glove with the perpetrators, or simply too negligent and ineffective" to prevent the killings.

"NC has been saying a very big thing both inside the Assembly and outside that around 10,000 of its workers were killed. They were killed Omar Abdullah and Farooq Abdullah were holding the charge of Home department. Since the government of India took over the charge of law and order not a single worker of the National Conference was killed here. So, what does this show?" the LoP said while addressing a press conference in Srinagar.

"Omar Abdullah and Farooq Abdullah must answer whether they were complicit in these killings or hand on glove with the killers or too relaxed to handle the situation," he said.

The LoP said the workers of NC were safe presently because of Home Minister Amit Shah is responsible for their safety and security.

Sharma, who was accompanied by party colleague R.S. Pathania, also launched a scathing attack on the NC, accusing it of betraying public trust and mishandling the security situation during its previous tenure.

He said the NC deliberately disrupted Assembly proceedings under the pretext of the Waqf Amendment Bill to avoid answering pointed questions raised by opposition lawmakers.

"For the first time in the history of the J&K Assembly, the government itself disrupted the House for three consecutive days. The Speaker and government is yours and you don't allow the Assembly to run. It was drama and on the pretext of Waqf Bill they didn't allow the Assembly to function," Sharma said.

He alleged that the move was aimed at preventing the discussion of public issues, as a record number of bills, resolutions, and call attention motions had been submitted by members.

"The government ran away because it didn't want to answer. It deliberately avoided debate," he added.

Sharma reiterated the BJP's commitment to the restoration of statehood to Jammu and Kashmir.

"Statehood is our promise—BJP's promise. The people didn't elect you(NC) just to sit here; they want solutions," he said.

He also questioned the status of key public promises, including employment. "You said you'd provide five lakh jobs—that's one lakh per year, or 50,000 government jobs every six months. Where are those jobs? Apart from a appointment linked to the National Conference through backdoor, what employment have you given to common people?" he asked.

NC hits back at BJP's Sunil Sharma, says he failed as Opposition leader

Srinagar, April 12 (UNI) : Hours after Leader of Opposition and BJP legislator Sunil Sharma questioned National Conference over the killing of nearly 10,000 of its workers, the NC on Saturday hit back, saying that Sharma had likely been scolded by his party leadership in Delhi for failing spectacularly as an opposition leader in the Jammu and Kashmir Assembly.

NC Chief Spokesperson and legislator Tanvir Sadiq mocked at Sharma's recent press conferences, saying, "Two press conferences in two days, and the BJP's Leader of the Opposition still can't manage to explain anything, looks like he's been scolded by Delhi and his own party for failing spectacularly as an opposition leader in the assembly!"

In a post on X, Sadiq challenged the logic of LoP Sharma that around 10,000 NC workers were killed when Omar Abdullah and Farooq Abdullah headed the Home Department.

"One of these days, we might just expose the full extent of his nonsense. But for now, let's address his latest gem: blaming the NC for the deaths of NC workers during our government. By that logic, is the BJP responsible for every single security force casualty from 2019 till today—including the tragic martyrdom of a JCO just now? May he RIP. Whose failure is it then, LOP sahab?," questioned Sadiq

Amit Shah visits NCP (AP) leader Sunil Tatkare's house for lunch

Kolhapur / Raigad, April 12 (UNI) : Amidst growing tensions between Mahayuti alliance partners Shiv Sena (Shinde) and NCP (AP) on contentious issue of appointment of guardian minister of Raigad district, NCP (AP) leader Sunil Tatkare on Saturday hosted Union Home Minister and senior BJP leader Amit Shah at his house for lunch.

After paying tributes to Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj at Raigad fort in Raigad district on occasion of 345th death anniversary today, Shah visited Tatkare's house 'Rohan' of the district, had lunch and spent about 45 minutes there.

He was accompanied by Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis and his two deputies Eknath Shinde and Ajit Pawar.

Later talking to reporters at his residence, Tatkare made it clear that

Fadnavis govt should be booked for culpable homicide over farmer suicides: Congress' Sapkal

Mumbai, April 12 (UNI) : The “triple engine” government in Maharashtra has betrayed the trust of the people, and farmers are ending their lives as there is no crop insurance compensation, no loan waivers, Maharashtra Pradesh Congress Committee President Harshvardhan Sapkal said here today.Sapkal demanded that the Devendra Fadnavised state government be booked for culpable homicide in farmer suicide cases, as another farmer ended his life after being unable to pay back loans.

The state Congress chief said the Mahayuti government came to power by making tall promises to the people, only to betray their trust. "The government has gravely deceived beloved sisters, ST workers, and farmers. There’s no fair price for agricultural produce, no crop insurance compensation, no loan waivers—leading to a devastating crisis where farmers are ending their lives. This is shameful for Maharashtra".

He termed the suicide of farmer Haridas Vishwambhar Bombale from Patoda Thadi in Dharmabad taluka of Nanded district as "nothing but a sacrifice forced by the government".

Speaking to the press at Tilak Bhavan, Sapkal lashed out at the BJP-led alliance government. He said the suicide of Bombale was a heart-wrenching incident.

The farmer ended his life due to the pressure of loan recovery from the Maharashtra Gramin Bank.

The government has not compensated farmers for losses suffered due to unseasonal rains and hailstorms, not has it provided any assistance, or honored its loan waiver promises, said Sapkal.

"With life becoming unbearable, farmers are resorting to hanging themselves.

This government is blind, deaf, and mute. Instead of roaming around with Union Home Minister Amit Shah, the Chief Minister and both Deputy Chief Ministers should go to Delhi and secure a special package for the state and help the farmers," said Sapkal.

"The state is reeling under drought, several regions are facing acute water shortages, and migration to cities is rising due to lack of e m p l o y m e n t — e v e n drinking water is scarce. The Jal Jeevan scheme has been riddled with corruption and is essentially a farce, yet the government continues to ignore it," Sapkal added.

Mumbai Water Tankers Association announces continuation of strike

Mumbai, April 12 (UNI) : The Mumbai Water Tankers Association (MWTA) announced on Saturday that their ongoing indefinite stir will continue till the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) revokes its directive mandating licences for groundwater extraction.

On April 11 (Friday), the BMC had deferred the terms of its notification to the owners of borewells and ring well operators until June 15.The decision to stay its notice until the next two months came along the heels of Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis’ decision to find a resolution for the concerns flagged by the water tanker drivers across Mumbai amidst burgeoning water crisis across the city.

However, the MWTA maintained that their strike is here to stay and will not be revoked, leaving the city mired with its ongoing water crisis.

As several pockets of the city reeled under a water crisis, Union Minister for Jal Shakti Ministry C R Patil also had on Friday convened a meeting with

Satara court sentences man to life imprisonment

the representatives of the MWTA as well as the CGWA authorities, wherein the grievances of the tanker owners were discussed.

Following the meeting, minister Patil directed the CGWA to streamline the process of obtaining NOCs (no-objection certificates) and making the facility more accessible.Even so, the MWTA representatives said that with the clauses of their demands remaining unfilled, they will not revoke their strike.

“We will not be cancelling our strike, and our services are still suspended. Despite our meeting, none of our

Those who insult Chhatrapati should be thrown over the edge: CM Fadnavis

Pune, April 12 (UNI) : Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis said today that “appropriate action” will be taken against “those who insult our Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj”.“We all are of the opinion that those who insult our Chhatrapati Shivaji, should be thrown over the edge; but, we live in a democratic country, therefore, action will be taken against such criminals in accordance with democracy,” the CM stated.Replying to a demand made by BJP MP Udayanraje Bhosale, Fadnavis said that “we have discussed this in detail. We will take appropriate action against those who insult our Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj.”“We have decided to make strict rules in accordance with democracy,” he added.The Chief Minister said Udayanraje Bhosale has also demanded that a standard history of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj should be prepared on behalf of the state government.

there was no discussion on state politics nor on appointment of the guardian minister of Raigad district.

He said that he had invited all senior ministers of alliance partners including Uday Samant and Bharat Gogavale but Gogavale did not come for the lunch.There are political differences between NCP-AP and Shiv Sena (Shinde) over the Raigad guardian minister's post, as the post is currently being held by CM Fadnavis after protest over appointment of Tatkare's daughter Aditi Tatkare as guardian minister of Raigad district.Whereas, Shiv Sena (Shinde) wants its minister Bharat Gogavale to be appointed as guardian minister.

Under the direction of Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, the day will be observed with grandeur and dignity. Districts across the state will host grand events, seminars, and tribute ceremonies dedicated to Babasaheb’s life and legacy.

On Sunday, a day before the celebration, special cleaning drives will be conducted in all public parks and memorials across the state—particularly those housing statues of national heroes and great personalities. Residents, public representatives, government officials, and employees will also participate in the cleanliness campaigns.

On Monday, district officials, government staff, and local representatives will pay floral tributes and garland Dr. Ambedkar’s statues. Special programmes focusing on his life, work, and contribution to the Indian Constitution will also be organised.

Various events across the state will highlight Dr. Ambedkar's ideas and his role in drafting the Constitution. The Chief Secretary of UP has directed all divisional commissioners and district magistrates to personally take part in these events and ensure the active involvement of public representatives, intellectuals, and students.

The Chief Minister wished that the festival of Baisakhi brings joy, prosperity, and happiness to everyone's lives.

Xi Jinping’s leadership: Nicholas Burns

The US' high tariffs on China will be a major test for President Xi Jinping’s leadership amid the economic slowdown while the Trump administration’s levies on Beijing could be far more effective if the US takes allies along, former US ambassador to China Nicholas Burns has said.

US President Donald Trump slapped 145 per cent tariffs against Chinese exports and China retaliated with 125 per cent levies on its imports from America.

China is the only country to have retaliated with tit-for-tat levies.

Midway through his tariff campaign against a number of countries, Trump paused the additional duties on other nations for 90 days while imposing more punitive levies on China leaving Beijing to wage a lonely battle to defend its interests.

"The tariff war with the US will be a major test for Xi Jinping simply because the Chinese economy has not performed well in the last few years. Their GDP growth rate is slowing down," Burns told BBC on Friday.

“They still have a major hangover from the property bubble," which had caused a severe crisis in the real estate market, the mainstay of the Chinese economy, Burns said.“They are facing a demographic crisis over the next decade or so. Capital has been fleeing," he said, adding that the Foreign Direct Investment fell by 32 per cent last year in China.

“I don’t think the Chinese government wants to have a sustained trade war. They want to get a trade deal with the United States,” said Burns, who was appointed by former US president Joe Biden and served as American Ambassador to Beijing from 2022 to early this year.He also said Trump should take the US allies along to make the trade war against China more effective.

“The other issue is the major miscalculation by the Trump administration. We didn’t include on our side of the trade battle, our major trade partners the EU, Japan, and South Korea and those countries along with the US represent more than 60 per cent of the global GDP”.

“So, the way to battle the Chinese effectively, I certainly found as ambassador in Beijing is to get your allies on your side with us. Because the Chinese cannot match that. Instead, the US has put stratospherically high tariffs on those allies depriving us of that unique advantage," he said, referring to Trump’s imposition of tariffs on a host of countries.

Commenting on China’s tit-for-tat response, Burns said: “It is not surprising the Chinese would have matched us blow by blow...That is what they were doing when I was there as ambassador for over three and half years”.

He said it is important to remember former US president Biden also continued tariffs imposed by Trump in the previous presidency.

“The reason is China is a major violator of international rules. The Chinese government has not protected the intellectual property rights of the American companies in China," he said.

“Chinese practised forced technology transfer. So, there is a lot of wrong in this picture the Chinese have caused. But the problem for the Trump administration is 145per cent tariffs on Chinese goods. Now the Chinese have nearly matched us," he said.

“The US and China are the world’s largest economies and if the trade war between them continues more than six months it could effectively decouple the economic relationship of the two countries," Burns said.The total trade between China and the US was USD 642 billion in goods and services last year and China is America’s 3rd largest trade partner after Mexico and Canada, he said.

“The tariffs will have a profound impact on the American economy and a big impact on China globally. We hope at this moment the two governments will find a way to talk," he said.

He discounted claims that China could successfully navigate the crisis.

“It is not true that the Chinese can weather the trade war if it lasts as long as they claim. If the trade war continues at this level of tariffs for six months that would cut into the China-US relationship in a very significant way," Burns said.

The tariffs will affect exporters and importers on both sides.

“That will produce a crisis in the economies of both the countries. That is why this is such an important issue until it can be resolved”, he said.

On who will blink first he said “it is a massive game of chicken" on "an Olympian diplomatic scale". "I don’t think you can ask the other side to blink first and make a compromise, which is not the way it works at this level of diplomacy and politics. But what we can do is to stay in touch with them and talk behind the scenes,” he said.

The spirit of my visit to New Delhi is to give further momentum to these relations.”

32 civilians killed in paramilitary force's attack in Sudan's El Fasher : Army

Khartoum, April 12 (UNI) : At least 32 civilians were killed in an attack by the paramilitary Rapid Support Forces (RSF) on El Fasher, the capital of North Darfur State, the Sudanese army said.

"The militia launched a swarm of suicide drones on El Fasher today (Friday), accompanied by simultaneous artillery shelling on the city," the command of the 6th Infantry Division of the Sudanese Armed Forces (SAF) said in a statement on Friday.

The death toll included 4 women and 10 children, with 17 others injured and hospitalised, the army said.

The Coordination of Resistance Committees in El Fasher, a local volunteer group, confirmed the RSF attack, stating that drones and artillery targeted the northern and eastern parts of the city. The group asked residents to avoid the streets due to ongoing drone activity. The Sudanese Doctors Network reported a second RSF strike on the Zamzam displacement camp near El Fasher, though no casualties have been reported. The network condemned the use of heavy artillery in the attack, describing it as an escalation in RSF violence. Ibrahim Khatir, director-general of North Darfur State's Health Ministry, confirmed the attack on the Zamzam camp but told Xinhua that the casualty count remains unclear due to its distance from the city and communication issues.

Since May 10, 2024, fierce fighting has erupted between the Sudanese army and the RSF in El Fasher, part of the broader conflict that has engulfed Sudan since April 2023. According to the Armed Conflict Location and Event Data Project, cited by the United Nations, the conflict between the two factions has claimed over 29,683 lives. The International Organisation for Migration reports that it has also displaced more than 15 million people.

Sri Lanka, IMF agree to continue deal talks amid uncertainty

Colombo, April 12 (UNI) : Sri Lanka and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) have agreed to continue discussions to conclude a staff level agreement later, following the uncertain trajectory of the international economy triggered by the US trade tariffs. "The recent external shock and evolving developments are creating uncertainty for the Sri Lankan economy, which is still recovering from its own economic crisis," an IMF visiting team said in an end of mission statement, as per Economy Next.

An IMF team led by Evan Papageorgiou visited Colombo from April 3 to 11.

"More time is needed to assess the impact of the global shock and how its implications for Sri Lanka can be addressed within the contours of its IMF-supported program." Sri Lanka, which had almost gone completely bankrupt in 2022 had bounced back since 2023 after India extended it a $4 billion Line of Credit, making Colombo eligible for securing a $2.9 billion bailout package from the global money lender in the form of a four-year Extended Fund Facility in March 2023. Colombo currently needs to complete an IMF executive board approval to receive about $334 million as the next tranche of its facility. However, the new 44% tariff duty imposed on the country by US President Donald Trump as part of his global trade tariffs has made the economic situation uncertain. In its statement, the IMF said: "Sri Lanka's ambitious reform agenda supported by the IMF Extended Fund Facility (EFF) continues to deliver commendable outcomes.

Malé, April 12 (UNI) : With the Maldives going through an economic crisis, officials at the Maldivian Presidential Palace were quick to deny allegations of extravagant spending by President Mohammad Muizzu and the First Family, calling them "baseless".

The officials claimed that in Muizzu's tenure, expenses have actually decreased. The claims of extravagant spending were made by opposition-aligned Channel 13, which accused the First Family of indulging in excessive spending during a weekend visit to the Presidential Retreat in Aarah. Minister at the Presidential Palace (Muliaage), Iqbal Adam, dismissed the accusations as "completely baseless", stating that the administration has taken a firm stance on cost-cutting, particularly in light of the country's current economic situation, psmnews reported. The Iranian and US delegations are holding talks in Oman's capital, Muscat, to discuss the Iranian nuclear programme.

Ahead of the talks, Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi said that Iran is seeking a "fair agreement" with Washington, Mehr News reported.

"Our intention is to reach a fair and honorable agreement on an equal footing," Araghchi said on Iranian state television on Saturday, ahead of his high-level meeting with US President Donald Trump's special envoy to the Middle East, Steve Witkoff.

Araghchi said there was "a chance" of reaching a compromise "if the other side" adopts the same position. On Saturday morning, Araghchi and his Omani counterpart, Badr bin Hamad al-Busaidi, conferred on the arrangement for the indirect talks.

The indirect talks are being mediated by al-Busaidi.

Kiev violated moratorium on strikes against energy facilities over 60 times: Moscow

Moscow, April 12 (UNI)

: Since the agreement on a 30-day moratorium on strikes against energy facilities was reached, Kiev has violated it more than 60 times, Alexey Polishchuk, Director of the Second CIS Department at the Russian Foreign Ministry, told Sputnik.

"The Kiev regime is indeed maliciously violating the 30-day moratorium on strikes on energy facilities, which was agreed upon on March 18 by the presidents of Russia and the United States [Vladimir Putin and Donald Trump] and then supported by [Volodymyr] Zelenskyy," Polishchuk said. "Since this agreement was reached, the Ukrainian side has violated it more than 60 times," he said.

facing issues related to food security following severe floods, and to cool inflationary pressures on rice prices. The Indian exports of rice come even as New Delhi has withdrawn transshipment facility to Bangladesh.

The Indian Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said earlier this week that the withdrawal of transshipment facility would not affect Bangladesh's exports to Nepal and Bhutan.

India's Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) issued a circular on April 8, announcing that New Delhi is rescinding the use of the transshipment facility to Bangladesh for export via its land routes.

ultimately achieving regional and global peace, security and stability."

"We will continue to work together and put further efforts to assist in arriving at this goal," al-Busaidi said.

On Friday, President Donald Trump told reporters, "I want Iran to be a wonderful, great, happy country. But they can't have a nuclear weapon."

The statement came days after Trump warned that the US would resort to military force if the talks fail, saying that Iran "would face great danger" in such a scenario.

Amid the Muscat talks, in a show of force, the Trump administration has stationed B-2 stealth bombers at Diego Garcia, a remote US base in the Indian Ocean far beyond the range of most Iranian missiles.

The move underscores Washington's readiness to strike if the talks collapse and signals to Tehran that military options remain firmly on the table.

Summer brings with it a plethora of problems - skin, hair and health problems like sunstroke, and heat boils. Summer also calls for a change in diet and other healthy living tips. We chalk out the 15 best summer health care tips to practice this summer season.

Heat stroke

Heat stroke, a severe form of hyperthermia, occurs when the human body absorbs more heat than it can dissipate. This is a serious condition and needs immediate medical attention. It is important to lower the

Summer diet

One must eat cold foods such as watermelon, yogurt, berries and the likes. Such foods are low in calories and additionally require very little energy for digestion. Usually such foods taste better when chilled and are therefore traditionally eaten that way. Naturally, eating such chilled low calorie foods feels good in the summer months.

Summer diet

Importance of including a variety of foods in your diet. All essential nutrients are required in the summer months, particularly the minerals that are lost in the sweat. It is possible to replenish these micro- nutrients only if the diet includes varied food groups such as fruits, vegetables, milk, cereals, meat, pulse and fats.

Summer diet

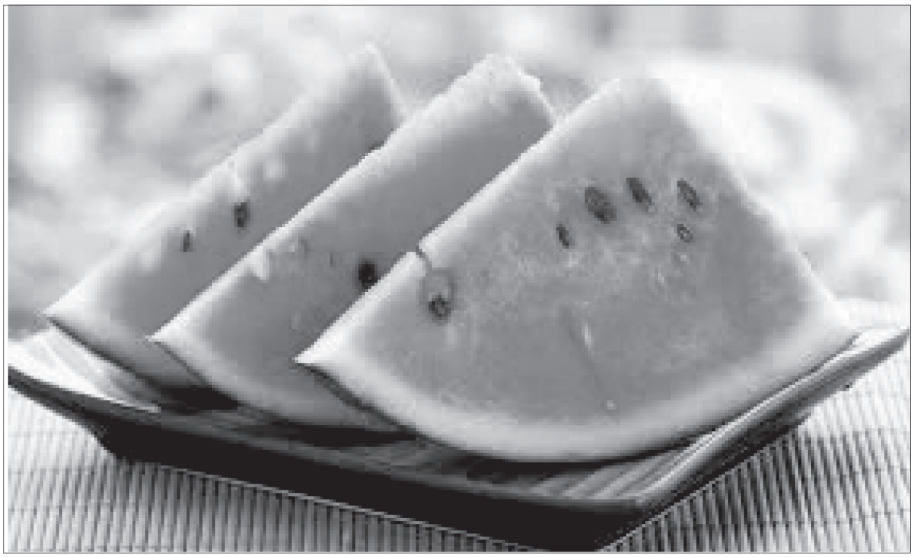

Importance of choosing fats carefully. In the summer months, a number of people who want to lose weight switch to a zero fat diet. This is not a healthy trend. The essential fats that the body needs are available through diet alone. It is therefore sensible to limit the fat intake to just the essential requirement but to avoid any extras.

Summer diet

Drinking very chilled liquids is not advisable. Food consumed at extreme temperatures, whether hot or cold, is not appropriate for the body. The body has to work extra in order to get the temperature close to the body temperature. Drinking warm or cool (as opposed to hot and cold) liquids are best suited for the body.

Summer diet

Maintain good food-hygiene levels. Many dangerous bacteria and viruses thrive in the summer months as the temperature is conducive for their growth. The bad bugs usually enter the body through food and water. This is why maintaining food hygiene is crucial in this season.

You're supposed to drink 8 glasses of water a day but how many of us actually do that? Here are some ways you can eat your water content and deliciously hydrate your body by eating certain foods

When you exercise or workout, you usually tend to lose a lot of water through sweat leading to your electrolyte levels going below normal. A wise move for replenishing your hydration levels is to drink electrolyte-rich fresh juices and eat hydration-promoting foods, such as fruits and vegetables. Also, drinking too much water can actually cause a critical loss of vitamins and minerals as they get whooshed out of the body with every trip to the bathroom. When you start 'eating' water, you don't need to count your glasses. You can replace at least one glass of water a day with one serving of raw fruits or vegetables and you will be able to stay hydrated significantly longer. Moreover, you'll get the added boost of fiber, antioxidants and other health-promoting phytonutrients. In fact, by sticking to a healthy diet, you'll end up 'eating' most of the water needed each day to stay hydrated.

Hydrating foods to eat every day

Our body is constantly replacing damaged cells, so it is imperative that we eat and drink to promote our cellular health. The best way to do this is to keep the body flooded with cell-protecting antioxidants and the building blocks of stronger cell membranes. Here are foods that contain high levels of nutrients and 'structured water'.

Mangoes

If your skin frequently feels parched, just eat a mango! Mangoes are bursting with vitamins and minerals, especially vitamin A. Vitamin A normalises the production and life cycle of skin cells. Mangoes also improve your skin if you suffer from acne. In skin with acne, there is an overproduction of cells in the stratum corneum, which is the outermost layer of the skin and is composed of biologically 'dead' cells. These excess dead cells combine with sebum (the skin's own natural oil) to form comedones - the pore plugs that are the defining element of acne. Taken as a dietary supplement, vitamin A helps to prevent overproduction of skin cells in the stratum corneum. You can add 3 to 4 slices of mango to every meal as a refreshing and hydrating naturally sweet treat.

Pomegranates

Pomegranates are a wonderfully hydrating source of antioxidants. They may be the world's most prolific source of polyphenols. The unique combination of elements in pomegranates increases the protective abilities of sunscreens, which can help prevent sun damage. Add pomegranates to your morning cereal or yogurt, fresh green or fruit salads for a refreshing snack or breakfast.

Avocado

The buttery-fleshed avocado may not seem like a hydrating food, but these healthy gems replenish potassium and contain healthy fats and fiber, which help your body hold on to water. As a bonus, the monosaturated fats in avocados contain oleic acid, which has been found to improve fat levels in the body and help control diabetes and cholesterol. Layer your sandwiches with avocado slices, toss diced avocado into your salads or simply scoop avocado out of its peel as a snack.

Foods that keep you Hydrated

Cucumber

Not only are cucumbers delightfully crunchy and low in calories, they are composed mostly of water, which will keep you feeling hydrated longer. In addition, cucumbers are an excellent source of silica, a trace mineral that contributes to the strength of connective tissue. Do not peel the cucumber skin! It is a good source of vitamins A, C and folic acid. You can add diced cucumber to green and grain salads or fan sliced cucumber on the side of your plate as a refreshing side dish. You can also cut cucumber into batons for an afternoon snack.

Broccoli

Your mom was right when she said to eat your greens. Broccoli and other green foods, such as spinach, are a great source of alpha lipoic acid which is a potent fat- and water-soluble antioxidant and an anti-inflammatory. Toss raw broccoli into your salads or simply snack on this hardy vegetable all by itself.

LSG defeat Gujarat Titans by 6 wickets in an IPL clash

Lucknow, April 12 (UNI) : Nicholas Pooran and Aiden Markram led from the front as Lucknow Super Giants (LSG) overhauled Gujarat Titans' (GT) total of 180 to clinch a comprehensive six-wicket win in the 26th match of the Indian Premier League (IPL) 2025 at the Ekana Stadium here on Saturday.

Chasing 181 for victory after electing to bowl first, LSG rode on Markram's blistering 58 off 31 balls and a power-packed 61 from Pooran off just 34 deliveries. The duo stitched a crucial 58-run partnership that steadied the chase after the early departure of captain Rishabh Pant (21). Ayush Badoni (28* off 20 balls) provided the finishing touches as the hosts reached 186/4 in 19.3 overs. Earlier, GT's innings was anchored by a fluent 60 off 38 balls from skipper Shubman Gill and a steady 56 from Sai Sudharsan. The pair put up a solid 120-run stand for the first wicket, but GT's momentum dipped after their dismissals. LSG bowlers struck at regular intervals, with Ravi Bishnoi (2/36) and Shardul Thakur (2/34) halting GT's charge.

Despite a late cameo from Shahrukh Khan (11 not out) and Rashid Khan (4 not out), GT were restricted to 180/6 in their 20 overs. Prasidh Krishna impressed with figures of 2/26, while Bishnoi's twin strikes in the middle overs proved decisive.

In reply, LSG began aggressively, notching up

61 runs in the Powerplay. Markram's strokeplay set the tone before Pooran unleashed his fury, smashing seven sixes to keep the asking rate in check. Even as GT's bowlers, including Mohammed Siraj (0/50) and Rashid Khan (1/35), tried to apply pressure, LSG maintained their composure.

The match ended with Badoni hitting the winning runs in the penultimate over, helping LSG register their fourth win of the season.

Brief Scores:

GT 180/6 in 20 overs (Shubman Gill 60, Sai Sudharsan 56; Ravi Bishnoi 2/36, Shardul Thakur 2/34)

LSG 186/4 in 19.3 overs (Nicholas Pooran 61, Aiden Markram 58; Prasidh Krishna 2/26)

Abhishek shatters IPL records with 141-run blitz

Hyderabad, April 12 (UNI) : Abhishek Sharma of Sunrisers Hyderabad etched his name into the IPL record books with a scintillating 141-run knock against Punjab Kings at the Rajiv Gandhi International Stadium on Saturday.

The explosive innings, which is now the third-highest individual score in IPL history, saw Sharma reach his century in just 40 balls, making it the joint-sixth fastest in the tournament's storied history. This remarkable performance has firmly placed Abhishek in two of the IPL's most coveted batting milestones.

Sharma's unbeaten 141, featuring 10 massive sixes and 14 crisp boundaries, now sits behind only Chris Gayle's iconic 175* (RCB versus PWI, 2013) and Brendon McCullum's record-setting 158* (KKR vs RCB, 2008) for the highest individual scores in IPL history. Abhishek's rapid century, achieved in just 40 deliveries, places him alongside some of the IPL's most devastating hitters. Gayle still holds the record for the fastest century, a staggering 30-ball feat from his 175* in 2013. He is followed by Yusuf Pathan (37 balls, 2010), David Miller (38 balls, 2013), and Travis Head and Priyansh Arya, both of whom took 39 balls in the 2024 and 2025 seasons, respectively.

Mohun Bagan SG lifts ISL 2024-25 Cup defeating Bengaluru FC 2-1 in Final

Kolkata, April 12 (UNI) : Mohun Bagan Super Giant (MBSG) won the Indian Super League (ISL) 2024-25 Cup after a 2-1 victory against Bengaluru FC at the Vivekananda Yuba Bharati Krirangan here on Saturday night.

MBSG came from behind after trailing by a goal to successfully cap off the League Double, having already clinched the ISL Shield this season, and have concluded the current campaign unbeaten at their home. They are just the second team after Mumbai City FC (2020-21) to win the League Shield and the ISL Cup in the same season.

MBSG banked on the crowd support to make a defining start to the game, with Jamie Maclaren coming close with a right footed shot from the same side of the box, which was saved in the bottom left corner by Gurpreet Singh Sandhu in the ninth minute.

They kept functioning dynamically in tandem, as Anirudh Thapa, usually pulling the strings at the centre, made an inroad into the 18-yard area and hastened towards a right footed shot from the left side of the box that was blocked in time.

The Blues responded with a flurry of opportunities around the 20th minute mark, with Alberto Noguera stretching the MBSG defence wide and delivering a cross for Sunil Chhetri that the forward couldn't capitalise upon. A subsequent headed effort from Edgar Mendez was saved at the centre of the goal by Vishal Kaith to keep the scores level. Bengaluru FC bagged the breakthrough in the 49th minute, courtesy of an own goal by defender Alberto Rodriguez. Williams was afforded ample space on the right flank and he optimised it with a whipping cross directed for Mendez inside the box. Subhasish Bose, who was marking Williams, could not close down his target. Rodriguez attempted to clear the ball but ended up hammering it into the back of the net under pressure. Seven minutes later, Bose tried to make up for the previous endeavour by recovering possession near the halfway mark and hurling a delivery that met Jason Cummings just outside the penalty area. The striker did well to control the ball and unleashed a left footed effort that required a fully stretched dive from Sandhu to stop the scores from equalising. However, MBSG earned a reprieve in the form of a penalty due to a handball by Chinglensana Singh. In the 72nd minute, Cummings stepped up for spot-kick duties and effortlessly converted the opportunity by caressing the ball into the bottom left corner with his left foot to bring the contest back on level terms. As the game entered the added time, Kaith sent in a long ball that Ashique Kuruniyan tried to hit home, albeit from a difficult angle on the left, but to no avail. Greg Stewart's lateral ball for Tom Aldred was headed from the left side of the six yard box by the defender, but it missed the target to the right. The match entered the extra time, and it did not take Maclaren too long to finally carve an impact in the grand finale. With MBSG exerting numbers ahead, the Bengaluru FC defence consequently slipped into a spot of bother and Maclaren's incisive instinct tapped upon that with a fierce effort from inside the box as soon as he gained possession to unsettle Sandhu and hit the centre of the net in the 96th minute, sealing a memorable campaign for the Kolkata-based club.

World No 1 Shi dumped out of Asian badminton championships

Ningbo (China), April 12 (UNI) : World No. 1 Shi Yuqi was eliminated from the 2025 Badminton Asian Championships after a hard-fought quarterfinal defeat to Singapore's Loh Kean Yew.

The Chinese star, playing on home soil, narrowly lost the opening game 21-19 before bouncing back to take the second 21-13 on Friday.

However, Loh seized control in the decider, overpowering Shi 21-16 to secure the victory. Shi, who claimed his second All England title last month, admitted his physical condition hampered his performance.

"Today, my body wasn't at its best, and I couldn't play to my strengths," said Shi. Loh, thrilled with the upset, called the victory a "personal milestone."

"Winning against Shi is incredibly tough, so this means a lot to me," he said. The Singaporean will next face Thailand's Kunlavut Vitidsarn, who outlasted Japan's Kenta Nishimoto in a grueling 88-minute battle.

In the other half of the draw, China's Lu Guangzu and Li Shifeng secured semifinal spots after defeating Indonesia's Jonatan Christie and Japan's Kodai Naraoka, respectively. They will clash for a final berth on Saturday.

China's women's doubles duos continued their dominant run, with Liu Shengshu and Tan Ning, Zhang Shuxian and Zheng Yu, and Olympic gold medalists Chen Qingchen and Jia Yifan all securing semifinal berths. Meanwhile, Chen Boyang and Liu Yi advanced to the last four by beating Malaysia's Goh Sze Fei and Nur Izzuddin in the men's doubles. However, Chinese mixed pair Feng Yanzhe and Huang Dongping were eliminated by Japan's Hiroki Midorikawa and Natsu Saito 21-16, 18-21, 13-21.

Liton's PSL mission over due to injury

Dhaka, April 12 (UNI) : Bangladesh wicketkeeper-batter Liton Das' first Pakistan Super League (PSL) stint ended even before the player could take the field for Karachi Kings.

Liton suffered a finger injury during a practice session and will be returning to the country on Saturday, The Daily Star reported.

"I was truly excited to play in the PSL for Karachi Kings, but the Almighty had other plans. During a practice session, I picked up a finger injury. Scans revealed a hairline fracture, and recovery will take at least 2 weeks," Liton wrote on his official Facebook page today. He suffered the injury in Karachi's practice session on Thursday.

"So sadly, my PSL mission is over before it even began. I'm flying back to Bangladesh and seeking your prayers & love for a quick recovery. Wishing the very best of luck to my team Karachi Kings," he added.

Liton also confirmed the news to The Daily Star over the phone today.

Liton and leg-spinner Rishad Hossain were granted No Objection Certificates (NOCs) for the entire season of PSL, which got underway on Friday and will run till May 18.

Rishad, however, did not start for Lahore Qalandars in their eight-wicket defeat to defending champions Islamabad United in Rawalpindi on Friday.

Sachin Baisoya trumps Udayan Mane in playoff to win Indorama Ventures Open Golf Championship

Ahmedabad, April 12 (UNI) : Delhi's Sachin Baisoya, who began the final day seven shots behind the lead in tied fifth place, registered a classic come-from-behind victory as he trumped Pune's Udayan Mane in a playoff after posting the day's best score of four-under 68 to lift the trophy at the Rs 2 crore Indorama Ventures Open Golf Championship played at the Kalhaar Blues & Greens Golf Club here on Saturday.

The 29-year-old Sachin Baisoya (68-71-70-68), who had decided not to play this week's event due to his father's ill health before being persuaded by the latter to tee it up in Ahmedabad, was tied at the top along with 34-year-old Udayan Mane (69-65-68-75) at a total of 11-under 277 at the end of the regulation 72 holes. Mane, the overnight leader by two shots, returned a last round of 75 after dropping five strokes on the last six holes that also saw Baisoya rise into contention.

Sachin fared better in negotiating the tricky pin position on the playoff hole (Par-4 18th) as he made par with a two-putt, even as Udayan conceded a fatal bogey on the same hole. Baisoya, who has so far won both playoffs he has been a part of, thus recorded his fourth professional victory.

The winner's cheque worth Rs30 lakh catapulted Sachin, who hails from the Delhi Golf Club, from 11th place to second position in the PGTI Order of Merit. Baisoya's earnings for the season now read Rs 44,65,650. Khalin Joshi of Bengaluru carded a 74 on Saturday to finish third at 10-under 278.

Faridabad's Abhinav Lohan struck a fourth round of 72 to secure fourth place at nine-under 279. Abhinav was a prime contender for the title when he joined Udayan in the lead on the back nine in round four. However, a late bogey and double-bogey put him out of contention.

Local lad Varun Parikh (69) of Ahmedabad and Chandigarh's Ajeetesh Sandhu (71) finished tied fifth at eight-under 280.

Sachin Baisoya made steady progress through the day to climb up the leaderboard. Sachin garnered three birdies and a bogey on the front nine, two of his birdies coming as a result of long conversions. Baisoya then pushed ahead with an exceptional approach on the 10th and a massive 35-foot conversion on the 11th that earned him two more birdies.

Hosting Asia to be a big boost for Indian football: Sports Minister on AIFF's AFC Asian Cup 2031 bid

New Delhi, April 12 (UNI) : The All India Football Federation (AIFF) has formally submitted its bid to host the AFC Asian Cup 2031, a move that would bring the footballing royalty of the continent to India. India's bid to bring the AFC Asian Cup 2031 to the subcontinent was recognised by the Asian Football Confederation (AFC) in its Annual General Body meeting at the 35th AFC Congress in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, on Saturday. Union Minister for Youth Affairs and Sports, Dr. Mansukh Laxmanbhai Mandaviya showed his support for the enterprise on hearing of India's bid.

He said, "Hosting major sporting events has a profound and lasting impact on a nation's sports ecosystem and infrastructure. Sports can serve as a powerful testimony of India's rising global stature. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is leading India's visionary bid to host the 2036 Olympics. There is also growing momentum behind India's aspiration to host the Commonwealth Games once again."

Dr. Mandaviya further extended the support of the Government, and said, "Given football's immense popularity across the country, it is only natural that we are pursuing the opportunity to host the AFC Asian Cup. The government extends its strong support to the All India Football Federation's bid to bring Asia's biggest football event to India. Should we succeed, I am confident that football will get a big boost."

Speaking from Kuala Lumpur, where he attended the 35th AFC Congress, AIFF President Kalyan Chaubey said, "The AIFF is happy to have the government's strong support in our bid to host the AFC Asian Cup 2031. The Asian Cup is the biggest football tournament in Asia and it is important for India as a nation to showcase what we have, not just to Asia but to the rest of the world."

"The 2027 tournament would have come too soon for us, so we didn't push for it. But with six years left to prepare for the 2031 Asian Cup, we have enough time on hand to measure up to the challenge of facing the best in Asia," he said. Moving forward, the AFC will now work with the Bidding MAs on the delivery of the necessary bidding documentation in accordance with the established timelines and processes, with a Bidding Workshop for the AFC Asian Cup 2031 scheduled to be held later this month.

Tamim at SBNCS to watch Mohammedan-Abahani match

Dhaka, April 13 (UNI) : For the first time since suffering a major heart attack, former Bangladesh skipper Tamim Iqbal set foot in a stadium as he came to the Sher-e-Bangla National Cricket Stadium on Saturday to watch the high-voltage Dhaka Premier League (DPL) match between Mohammedan Sporting Club and Abahani Limited.

Tamim, who returned to Dhaka from Singapore on Friday night after getting a second opinion on his heart condition, arrived in Mirpur on Saturday noon during the Abahani innings, the Daily Star reported.

He was also seen at the Mohammedan dressing room, the side he was captaining before he suffered a severe heart attack. The 36-year-old had a cardiac arrest during a DPL match against Shinepukur Cricket Club at BKSP in Savar on March 24. An angiogram later revealed a 100 percent blockage in one of his arteries and a partial blockage in another, necessitating an immediate stenting procedure. Tamim was discharged from Evercare Hospital in Dhaka on March 28 after his treatment at KPJ Specialised Hospital in Savar and spent Eid with his family. He went to Singapore last week for an extensive check-up.

In Tamim's absence, Towhid Hridoy is leading Mohammedan in the ongoing tournament.

Iyer, Stoinis rip through SRH in record breaking run fest

Hyderabad, April 12 (UNI) : A breathtaking display of fearless power-hitting, led by skipper Shreyas Iyer's scintillating 82 off just 36 balls, saw Punjab Kings pile on a mammoth 245 for 6 against Sunrisers Hyderabad in Match 27 of the IPL 2025 here on Saturday.

Iyer's assault included six fours and six sixes, coming at a strike rate of 227.78. He was ably supported by openers Priyansh Arya (36 off 13) and Prabhsimran Singh (42 off 23), who tore into the SRH pacers early on and laid the perfect foundation with a 66-run opening stand inside the powerplay. What followed was a sustained demolition of the SRH bowling attack. Mohammed Shami endured a nightmare, conceding 75 runs in his four overs, including four sixes in a row by Marcus Stoinis in the final over. Stoinis finished unbeaten on 34 off 11 balls, striking at an eye-watering 309.09. Punjab raced to 89/1 at the end of the powerplay, with Hyderabad bowlers struggling to find any rhythm or line of defence. Prabhsimran played a commanding hand, peppering the off-side with precision before holing out to Pat Cummins off Eshan Malinga. The young pacer Malinga, reminiscent of his legendary namesake, returned 2/45, including a sharp yorker to trap Nehal Wadhwa (27) plumb in front.

Iyer then took charge, launching Zeeshan Ansari, Malinga, and Cummins to all parts of the Rajiv Gandhi Stadium. His innings included a series of effortless lofts over extra cover and signature reverse sweeps, even as wickets fell at the other end. Glenn Maxwell's poor run continued as he fell for 3, attempting a scoop that deflected off his leg stump, giving Harshal Patel his third wicket.

Patel was the pick of the bowlers for SRH, claiming 4/42, including the key wickets of Iyer, Maxwell, and Arya. However, even he could not stem the flow of runs, as Punjab found boundaries almost every over.

The final over was the icing on Punjab's towering cake. Shami, returning to bowl the 20th, was clobbered for four consecutive sixes by Stoinis — a brutal exhibition of wrist strength and clean hitting. The veteran quick went wicketless in his spell, with an economy of 18.80.

WHISPERS OF PROGRESS

(By Standard Post)

BENEATH THE MOUNTAINS

Amidst the towering heights of the Himalayas, where clouds kiss the earth and valleys whisper secrets, the dream of Indian Railways has taken full shape in the form of the Udhampur-Srinagar-Baramulla Rail Link (USBRL) Project. The grandeur of this project is reflected in its tunnels hidden corridors that not only conquer geography but also pave the way for the speed of the future. Out of the 272-kilometre USBRL railway route, 36 major tunnels cover nearly 119 kilometres. Some of these tunnels are so long and complex that they have become milestones in engineering excellence.

T-50 – India’s Longest Transportation Tunnel

Length: 12.77 km | Location: Sumber–Khari

Tunnel T-50, India’s longest transportation tunnel, stands as a vital lifeline, seamlessly linking the Kashmir Valley with the rest of the nation. Constructed using the New Tunneling Method, it navigates through formidable rock formations such as quartzite, gneiss and phyllite. The tunnel features a main passage alongside a parallel escape tunnel, interconnected by cross-passages at every 375-metre interval. Its construction was fraught with challenges, including landslides, high water ingress, shear zones and jointed volcanic rock structures. To counter these obstacles, engineers strategically developed three adits (access tunnels), allowing simultaneous excavation from multiple points and significantly expediting progress.

Through resilience and innovation, India's longest transport tunnel emerged—a true marvel of engineering excellence.

T-23 A Testament to Technical Innovation

Length: 3.15 km
Location: Udhampur–Chak Rakhwal

Tunnel T-23 is the longest on this section, featuring a ballast-less track between Udhampur and Chak Rakhwal railway stations. In 2008, severe squeezing, swelling and bottom heaving caused major setbacks, requiring expert intervention. Overcoming these challenges, the tunnel was successfully completed, marking a significant milestone in the project.

T-80 The Backbone of Kashmir in the Pir Panjal Range

Length: 11.2 km
Location: Banihal–Qazigund

Built under the Pir Panjal range, T-80 tunnel ensures year-round connectivity between Jammu and Kashmir. Overcoming barriers of snowfall and altitude, it significantly enhances transportation and trade, and can be termed as ‘the backbone of USBRL’.

T-33 A Challenging Route Beneath Trikuta’s Shadow

Length: 3.2 km | Location: Katra–Banihal section

Tunnel T-33, the most challenging section of the Katra-Banihal stretch, spans 3.209 km at the base of the Trikuta Hills, forming a crucial link to the Kashmir Valley. Navigating highly fractured dolomite and the Main Boundary Thrust zone, it faced severe geological challenges, including a major collapse in October 2017 that halted progress for months. The project adopted the I-System of Tunneling in March 2022, incorporating deep drainage, umbrella pipe roofing, chemical grouting and reinforced supports to stabilise the structure. After years of perseverance, a breakthrough was achieved on 20 December 2023, marking a key milestone in this vital railway corridor.

T-1 Tunnel Built Using Cutting-Edge Techniques

Length: 3.209 km

T-1, unfortunately, also faced the relentless challenges posed by the Main Boundary Thrust, including severe mud and water ingress. To counter these issues, the advanced "I-System of Tunneling" was successfully deployed, integrating deep drainage pipes, umbrella pipe roofing and chemical grouting to ensure structural stability and safety.

T-34 – Dual-Passage Ingenuity

Length: 5.099 km
Location: Pai-Khad to Anji Khad

Tunnel T-34, a crucial link in the USBRL Project, stands as a testament to engineering ingenuity, seamlessly connecting Pai-Khad to Anji Khad. Spanning 5.099 km, it features a twin-tube design—a Main Tunnel for train operations and a parallel Escape Tunnel for safety, interconnected by cross-passages at 375-metre intervals.

This twin tunnel system, carved through the Sirban Dolomite rock formations, was constructed using the New Tunneling Method. It is connected to Anji Khad Bridge, India’s first cable-stayed railway bridge, with cross-passages every 375 metres, ensuring both safety and operational efficiency.
