NDSA report on Kaleshwaram an indictment of BRS govt : Uttam

(Standard Post Bureau)

Hyderabad, April 25 (UNI) : Irrigation Minister Capt N Uttam Kumar Reddy on Friday said the National Dam Safety Authority's (NDSA) report on the Kaleshwaram Project was a 'direct indictment of the previous BRS government', exposing serious flaws in its design, construction, and maintenance. "The NDSA in its report clearly stated that the design was faulty, construction was faulty, operation and maintenance were faulty. Soil testing was not done properly, and no proper geophysical investigations were conducted," Uttam told reporters on the sidelines of the two-day Bharat Summit organised by the state government, which commenced here.

Launching a blistering attack on the BRS leadership, the minister stated that the "BRS leaders should have some shame.

Highlighting the report's findings, he pointed out that the sand piping phenomenon, cavity formation underneath the raft, construction defects, design deficiencies, structural distress, and other downstream damages had rendered Block-7 of the Medigadda Barrage unserviceable. The NDSA committee noted similar issues in other blocks as well, based on geophysical investigations that revealed cavity formation under multiple sections of the barrage., he also pointed out. Uttam accused the previous BRS-led KCR government of mortgaging Telangana's future by borrowing over 21 lakh crore at high interest rates to build a project that failed under their own watch. "You (KCR) claimed you were creating wonders with Kaleshwaram. But you designed it, you built it, and it collapsed during your regime," he charged. Countering allegations that the NDSA report was politically motivated, Uttam clarified that the NDSA is a central agency comprising the country's top dam safety experts. "The NDSA was constituted when the BRS was still in power. Neither Chief Minister Revanth Reddy nor I appointed it. It is a national body. You (KCR) should be ashamed that your project was indicted by an institution formed during your own rule," he said.

Demanding a public apology from BRS leaders to the farmers of Telangana, Uttam announced that the Congress government would thoroughly study the NDSA findings and hold a detailed discussion in the next Cabinet meeting. Reiterating the government's commitment to accountability, he declared, "Those who constructed this project and those who enabled its flaws have committed a grave betrayal of Telangana's farmers"

"We will ensure they are held accountable. This betrayal will not go unpunished," he added.

His heroism stands as a testament to the spirit of the Kashmiri people, who have widely condemned the attack and stood in solidarity with the victims," they said.

"AIKS & HKS caution against attempts by certain divisive forces to

"We call upon all communities and citizens across India to stand united against extremism and reaffirm our commitment to peace, secularism, and national unity. Let us honour the memory of the 26 innocent lives lost by rejecting hate and working together for a just and inclusive society."

TMC tears into Narendra Modi for avoiding all-party meeting on Thursday

Kolkata, April 25 (UNI) : The West Bengal Trinamool Congress lashed out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday for prioritising election campaigning in Bihar over attending an all-party meeting and key national security discussions following the deadly terror attack in Pahalgam that claimed 26 lives.

The party was referring to the all-party meeting held on Thursday at the Parliament House complex in New Delhi, convened in response to the Pahalgam terror attack where all political parties expressed support for the actions taken by the Cabinet Committee on Security against Pakistan.

The meeting was chaired by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and attended by Home Minister

Amit Shah, External Affairs Minister Dr. S. Jaishankar, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, and BJP President J.P. Nadda and major leaders of all the political parties. However, Prime Minister Narendra Modi was notably absent due to his ongoing election campaign in Bihar.

Tearing into Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his "silence" on the brutal killings in Pahalgam, Trinamool Congress MP from Krishnanagar in Nadia district in West Bengal Mahua Moitra wrote on her X handle, “How does PM Narendra Modi have gall to skip All Party meeting on Pahalgam & instead go electioneering in Bihar? To tell us how only voting BJP4India can protect our borders?

Shameless.”

TMC, Rajya Sabha MP, Saket Gokhale wrote, “Just days ago, 26 innocent Indians were murdered by terrorists. And all political parties came together last evening to support the Union Govt in responding to the attack. The LoPs from BOTH Houses of Parliament were present. But Modi didn't feel that 26 Indian lives are important. Because, for the shameless man Modi, every death (in uniform or of a civilian) is merely an opportunity to ask for votes & to campaign for elections.”

State education minister Bratya Basu sharing visuals of the family members of the victims demanding justice wrote on his social media handle, “Don't ask us for votes if you can't protect us” – That's what grieving families are telling BJP leaders. No propaganda can silence the fury of those who lost loved ones due to the Modi Govt.'s indifference and apathy.”

Former journalist and TMC's Rajya Sabha MP who has been critical of BJP for the terror attack in Pahalgam wrote on her X handle, “When the country is numbed & grieving over a major terror attack in Pahalgam, when opposition parties have given their full support to the Government of India for the actions it wishes to take, for Narendra Modi to stay away from the All Party Meeting and instead attend a campaign rally in Bihar within 48 hours of Pahalgam is strange. In an hour of grave crisis, surely the Prime Minister must be the one taking the opposition into confidence.”

DNI Tulsi Gabbard denounces 'horrific Islamist terrorist attack'

Washington/New Delhi, April 25 (UNI) : The US' Director of National Intelligence, Tulsi Gabbard, said today the US stands in solidarity with India in the wake of the “horrific Islamist terrorist attack” in Pahalgam that targeted 26 Hindus, and said the US stands in support of India “as you hunt down those responsible for this heinous attack”.

US President Donald Trump had been the first world leader to dial PM Modi in the wake of the terror attack to express his nation's support for India and offer assistance.

PM Modi has vowed to wreak vengeance on the perpetrators of the attack, and hunt them down to the corners of the earth. Notably, India has severely downgraded its ties with Pakistan in the wake of the attack, which has been linked to handlers across the border.

J&K deposes Cabinet ministers across country to ensure safety of J&K residents

Srinagar, April 25 (UNI) : In the light of recent incidents and to reinforce a sense of security among students and businesspersons from Jammu & Kashmir residing in various parts of the country, Chief Minister Omar Abdullah on Friday directed the deployment of Cabinet Ministers to key cities across India.

After the terror attack on tourists in the picturesque Baisaran meadow near the famous resort of Pahalgam, which claimed 26 lives, there have been several reports of harassment and attacks, including on students in different parts of India.

An official spokesman said these senior representatives of the Government of Jammu & Kashmir have been tasked with coordinating closely with their counterparts in the respective State Governments. Their mandate is to ensure the safety, dignity and well-being of J&K residents who may be facing distress, anxiety, or insecurity in the wake of recent developments.

“With a view to instilling a sense of security among our students and businessmen currently in other states, I have deputed my Cabinet Ministers to various cities across the country. The purpose of these visits is to coordinate efforts with the respective State Governments and ensure the safety and well-being of J&K residents,” Office of Chief Minister, J&K posted on X.

“The J&K Government will stand with its people—anywhere, everywhere,” stated the Chief Minister, reaffirming the administration’s unwavering commitment to the welfare of its citizens beyond the territorial boundaries of Jammu & Kashmir.

On Thursday, the all-party meeting, convened by J&K chief minister Omar Abdullah, passed a resolution urging various state governments and Union territories across the country to ensure the safety of Kashmiris.Jammu and Kashmir Students Association (JKSA) has urged students from the region residing in different parts of the country to stay indoors, avoid public confrontations, and refrain from engaging in inflammatory or political content online.

investigation. The judge further clarified that the court's observations are limited to the petition and would not influence the merits of the case.

The FIR was lodged at Boileauganj police station in Shimla by Congress MLAs Sanjay Awasthi and Bhuvneshwar Gaur. They alleged that Ashish Sharma and father of Chetanya Sharma, Rakesh Sharma, a former Chief Secretary of Uttarakhand, played a central role in a conspiracy to destabilise the Congress-led state government.

The duo is accused of bribing MLAs and facilitating their stay in five-to seven- star hotels, as well as arranging helicopter transport for rebel legislators. The controversy stems from the Rajya Sabha elections held on February 27, 2024. Despite holding a majority with 40 MLAs in the 68-member Assembly, Congress suffered a shocking setback when six of its members and three independents cross-voted.

This resulted in a tie between Congress candidate Abhishek Manu Singhvi and BJP's Harsh Mahajan, who eventually won through a draw of lots.

The fallout led to a political crisis in Himachal Pradesh, prompting the BJP to claim that the Congress government had lost its majority.In response, the Speaker disqualified the six rebel MLAs under the anti-defection law. By-elections were held for nine seats, and Congress managed to regain its majority with 40 seats, stabilising the government.Meanwhile, an SIT led by ASP Navdeep Singh is probing the horse-trading allegations. Ashish and Rakesh Sharma have been summoned multiple times for questioning.

Our party stands for non-violence and social justice: Dy CM

Hyderabad, April 25 (UNI) : Deputy Chief Minister Bhatti Vikramarka on Friday said the Congress stands for non-violence, social justice and inclusive growth, and called on the people from the state and elsewhere in the country to join hands for global justice.

"Our party stands for non-violence, social justice and inclusive growth. We are taking this message to the whole world apart from the country," Bhatti said at a press conference on the sidelines of the ongoing Bharat Summit along with Senior AICC leader Salman Khurshid and other Congress leaders.

"We call on all the people in the state and the country to stand for global justice in a peaceful manner," he said.

The delegates at the Summit averred that they are hurt by the egregious attack in Pahalgam and volunteered to attend the candle light procession at Tank Bund being taken up in line with a call given by the AICC, he said.

Bhatti said the attendees in the two-day Bharat Summit backed the development and welfare programmes taken up by the Congress government to showcase rising Telangana.

Bhatti informed that they also supported and welcomed the NYAY programme for global justice taken up by Rahul Gandhi. The idea behind the summit, he said, was to

"market the state of Telangana to attract investments, create wealth and take up welfare programmes and generate employment for the youth in the process".

Dwelling into the past Bhatti reminded that India was in the forefront of giving a foreign policy for the world in the backdrop of the Cold War through non-alignment.

"In the backdrop of a situation where there is economic, social, political churn and war and inequality in all spheres are playing the roost, social justice is the need of the hour," he said.

Salman Khurshid said the summit is an idea of the Telangana government to boost investments both from within and outside to benefit the people of the state.

"We suggested the government to build up the Telangana shining message which is not simply of development and growth but also putting across the global profile of the state which eventually is the global profile of India," he said.

"What we have here is a progressive alliance and delegates have come here to discuss progressive liberal values that are cherished by the Congress party as its legacy. I extend deep gratitude to the Telangana government and all distinguished colleagues to ensure this ambition becomes successful," Khurshid added.

Anti-Pakistan protests after Friday prayers in Hyderabad

Hyderabad, April 25 (IANS) Muslims in Hyderabad on Friday staged protests against Pakistan over its involvement in the terrorist attack on tourists at Jammu and Kashmir's Pahalgam.

On a call given by All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM) President and Hyderabad MP Asaduddin Owaisi, Muslims offering Friday prayers wore black armbands to condemn the April 22 terror attack.

Owaisi himself donned a black band on the forearm while attending prayers at a mosque near his house in Shastripuram.

The MP himself was seen distributing black bands to the worshippers.

Hundreds of Muslims outside the historic Mecca Masjid staged a protest, condemning the terror attack and denouncing Pakistan. The protestors, led by local leaders of AIMIM, raised slogans of "Pakistan Murdabad" and "Hindustan Zindabad".

After protests against the Waqf Amendment Act for the last two Fridays, the area around the historic Charminar witnessed an anti-Pakistan protest.

Volunteers were seen tying black armbands to worshippers at Mecca Masjid and other mosques in the city. Owaisi had appealed to people to wear black bands to protest the terrorist act perpetrated by the Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) in Pahalgam against innocent Indians.

He had urged Muslims and justice-loving citizens to wear the black bands on Friday to give a message to the foreign forces that they will not allow India's unity and integrity to be weakened. "Because of this attack, the terrorists have an opportunity to target our Kashmiri brothers. I appeal to all Indians not to fall prey to the tricks of the enemy," said Owaisi.

The Lok Sabha member from Hyderabad on Thursday attended the all-party meeting called by the Centre in Delhi over the Pahalgam attack. Owaisi

Chief of Staff for Headquarters 16 Corps General-officer-Commanding (GoC), Major General Shailendra Singh pays tribute to Havildar Jhantu Ali Shaikh, who lost his life in Thursday's encounter between security forces and terrorists, during a wreath laying ceremony at Military Hospital in Jammu.

Telangana Bharat Summit: Policymakers and advocates brainstorm on gender equality and social justice

Hyderabad, April 25 (UNI) : International political leaders, policymakers and advocates committed to advancing gender equality, social justice and inclusive governance took part in a dialogue on Gender Justice and a Feminist Future to kick start the two-day Bharat Summit organised by the Telangana government here on Friday.

Taking part in the session, former Union Minister M. M. Pallam Raju highlighted policy frameworks like the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA), the Right to Education Act, and Telangana's Mahalakshmi Scheme, which provides free bus travel for women.

Raju, a former Central Human Resource Development (HRD) Minister, emphasised the power of education and mobility in uplifting communities. "When a woman in a family is educated, the whole family gets educated," he said, underlining the ripple effect of women's empowerment on social and economic development.

Salman Khurshid, another former Union Minister, suggested tax incentives to boost women's employment and questioned the lack of female participation in heavy industries, such as infrastructure development. "Women must be part of every sector. The answer is not just the right laws—but the right mindset—and the right men who stand for this cause," he said.

Former Swedish Foreign Minister Ann Linde spoke about the challenges facing Europe, particularly the decline in birth rates and structural disincentives for working women. She called for reforms in taxation policies and emphasised the urgent need for universal access to childcare.

"If families cannot combine work and parenting, gender equality will remain out of reach," she said, adding that any backlash against feminism must be firmly countered.

She further noted that the Bharat Summit plays a critical role in uniting voices to uphold democratic values. "In most parliaments across the world, women are still underrepresented. There are persistent gender biases. In my country, Sweden, women enjoy equal rights, resources, and representation—but that's not the case everywhere," she remarked.

Linde called for feminism-based policies and structural reforms to ensure meaningful representation. "The UN has never had a woman Secretary-General. I hope that changes in the next election," she added. She also acknowledged India's in gender representation, noting, "India has had more female leaders than Sweden. Gender equality also leads to reduced violence and more effective conflict resolution."

Monica Fein, a senior leader of Argentina's Socialist Party, argued for women's leadership in social and political transformation. "We don't just want to support men—we want to lead. Leadership and equality must include gender-diverse individuals and the systems that support them," she said, stressing that real democracy lies in inclusive participation.

From Tanzania, Rabia Abdallah, a senior CCM

party leader, underlined the value of cross-regional dialogue and the importance of embedding women's leadership in political structures to ensure sustained global justice.

Maria Alejandra Panay, Minister for Women Affairs, Republic of Panama, highlighted the systemic inequalities that Latin American women continue to face.

"One in three women experience sexual harassment. Young women remain invisible in mainstream policymaking," she said, calling for better pay equity, expanded digital access, and stronger representation in science and leadership roles.

K.G. Subramanyan remained a mentor and played a significant role in Vaikuntam finding his artistic voice.

Among like-minded artists, he realised the importance of drawing inspiration from his own surroundings. After initially working with charcoal, pencil, and ink, he began using acrylic paints to depict rural landscapes and the lives of Telangana's people. His primary palette of red, orange, and saffron—what he called "Indian colours"—and his distinctive figures eventually captured the public's imagination. In 1988, he received the Biennale Award from Bharat Bhavan, Bhopal, and further accolades followed, including the National Award for Painting in 1993.

After decades of struggle, Vaikuntam is now one of the most celebrated figures in contemporary Indian folk art. His unique blend of folk traditions and contemporary sensibilities has earned him international acclaim.

Vaikuntam has been invited to exhibit his work, both solo and in groups, at prestigious galleries in India, London, New York, Dubai, California, Singapore, and Hong Kong. His works have been auctioned by renowned auctioneers such as Christie's. He has also created sculptures reflecting his unique style, and his artworks are avidly collected both in India and abroad.

15th Rozgar Mela: PM Modi to distribute over 51,000 job letters

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is slated to distribute more than 51,000 appointment letters to newly-appointed youth in various government departments and organisations through video conferencing on Saturday.

In line with the Prime Minister's commitment to accord highest priority to employment generation, the 15th Rozgar Mela will be held at 47 locations across the country, according to a statement by the Prime Minister's Office (PMO).

The event will provide meaningful opportunities to the youth for their empowerment and effectively contributing to national development.

The new recruits, selected from across the country, will join the Central government in various ministries/departments including the Department of Revenue, Ministry of Personnel and Public Grievances and Pensions, Ministry of Home Affairs, Department of Posts, Department of Higher Education, Ministry of Railways, Ministry of Labour and Employment, among others.

More than 10 lakh permanent government jobs have been offered since 2022, setting a remarkable record, PM Modi had said during the 14th edition of Rozgar Mela in December last year.

While distributing 71,000 job offers, PM Modi highlighted that such job fairs were part of the government's endeavour to provide employment with complete transparency.

PM Modi launched Rozgar Mela – the recruitment drive for 10 lakh personnel -- on October 22, 2022. The first edition saw the handing over of appointment letters to 75,000 new appointees.

Rozgar Mela represents a significant initiative by the government to enhance employment opportunities for the youth across India.

By facilitating direct connections between job seekers and employers, it not only addresses the pressing issue of unemployment but also empowers individuals to contribute to national development. At the 14th Rozgar Mela, PM Modi also mentioned that India had signed agreements related to migration and employment with 21 countries in recent years, including countries like Japan, Australia, France, Germany, Mauritius, Israel, the UK and Italy, apart from the Gulf countries.

Surgery Remains the Frontline Defense Against Cancer

(Standard Post Bureau)

Cancer is one of India's fastest-growing health crises. According to the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), over 14.6 lakh new cancer cases were reported in 2022, and this number is expected to rise to 15.7 lakh by 2025. Among the growing arsenal of treatments, including chemotherapy, radiation, and immunotherapy, surgery continues to be the single most effective and decisive intervention for many types of cancer.

Surgery is a fundamental part of cancer treatment that involves the removal of tumors. For cancers that are localized and have not spread extensively, surgery can offer the possibility of a complete cure. For example, when tumors are detected early, they can be surgically removed before they spread to other areas of the body, increasing the chances of long-term survival.

For many patients, surgery is not only about curing the disease but also improving their quality of life. Tumors that obstruct vital organs, cause bleeding, or result in debilitating pain can be surgically removed to relieve these symptoms, offering significant comfort and enhanced quality of life for patients, even in advanced stages of cancer.

Surgical Advances in Oncology

Recent advancements in surgical oncology have made treatments less

Dr Parveen Mendiratta, Head of Department, Surgical Oncology, Yatharth Hospital, Greater Noida

invasive and more precise, leading to faster recovery and fewer complications. Techniques such as minimally invasive surgery, laparoscopic surgery, and robotic-assisted surgery have revolutionized how cancer surgery is performed. These methods allow for smaller incisions, reducing the risk of infection and enabling quicker recovery times.

Even in more advanced stages of cancer, surgery remains important. While it may not cure the cancer, surgical procedures can help manage the disease by removing tumors that cause blockages or pain, greatly improving the patient's comfort and functionality.

Surgery can also be combined with other treatments like chemotherapy or radiation. For example, surgery may be used to remove the main tumor, followed by chemotherapy to target remaining cancer cells in the body. This combination improves overall treatment outcomes and reduces the risk of recurrence.

Is Surgery Always Necessary?

While surgery is an essential tool in many cancer treatments, it is not always necessary. The decision to proceed with surgery depends on several factors, including the type of cancer, its location, the stage of the disease, and the patient's overall health. Some cancers may not be suitable for surgery, especially if they have spread widely or if the procedure could pose too much risk to the patient.

However, for many patients where surgery is an option, it remains the most direct and effective approach to fighting cancer. Though it is not a cure-all, surgery continues to be one of the most reliable tools for oncologists when managing the disease.

The Future of Cancer Surgery

The future of surgical oncology is bright, with ongoing innovations in medical technology continuing to improve the precision and outcomes of cancer surgeries. Intraoperative imaging, genetic tumor testing, and the development of targeted therapies are all advancing the field of surgery, helping doctors to make more informed decisions about treatment.

Surgery remains a critical part of cancer treatment, especially when combined with chemotherapy and radiation. It offers the best chance of survival for many patients, particularly in the early stages of the disease. As advancements in surgical technologies continue to evolve, surgery will only become more effective, ensuring it remains a crucial component of cancer care. For anyone facing a cancer diagnosis, consulting a surgical oncologist is essential to understanding the treatment options available and how surgery can improve survival chances and quality of life.

AINU Doctors Transplant Man's Own Kidney and Use His Appendix to Restore Urinary Function

(Standard Post Bureau)

In a remarkable demonstration of surgical excellence and innovation, doctors at the Asian Institute of Nephrology and Urology (AINU) in Hyderabad successfully saved both kidneys of a 65-year-old man suffering from a rare and life-threatening condition — by transplanting one of his own kidneys to a new position in his body and using his appendix to replace a damaged ureter on the other side. The patient, hailing from West Bengal, developed severe complications following a routine kidney stone removal procedure (RIRS) performed elsewhere in 2023. Post-surgery, both his ureters — the tubes that carry urine from kidneys to the bladder — became completely blocked, causing a life-threatening rise in creatinine levels, intense pain, and recurrent fever. With his kidneys in critical condition and temporary tubes (nephrostomies) draining them externally, the patient reached Hyderabad after being turned away by multiple centers in other states. Upon detailed evaluation, doctors found that both ureters had long-segment, high-grade obstructions, an extremely rare and challenging scenario. For the right kidney, the surgical team used a highly unconventional method: they repurposed the patient's own appendix to replace the blocked ureter. The appendix, being similar in size to the ureter, was meticulously repositioned using robotic-assisted surgery — a rarely performed but scientifically documented technique known as appendix interposition.

"This is one of the most creative and minimally invasive ways to reconstruct a long ureteric defect. It's not commonly done, but it was the perfect solution in this patient's case," said Dr. Syed Md Ghouse, Senior Consultant Robotic Surgeon and Urologist, AINU.

Following the procedure, the right kidney resumed normal function, and the external drainage tube was successfully removed.

Auto-Transplant: Transplanting the Kidney Back Into Himself

Two months later, the left kidney still remained compromised. Since the appendix exists only on the right side and other alternatives like intestinal interposition posed complications, the surgical team opted for a bold, rarely attempted solution: renal autotransplantation.

In this complex procedure, the patient's left kidney was surgically removed along with its blood vessels, then reimplanted lower down in the abdomen, bypassing the diseased ureter and allowing natural urine flow into the healthy segment.

"Renal autotransplantation is performed only in the most advanced centers and is considered a last-resort, high-precision procedure. We essentially gave his kidney a new home within his own body, Dr. Vijay Kumar Sarma Madduri, Consultant Urologist explained."

'Pahalgam attack is security lapse, intelligence failure'

Mainpuri (UP), April 25 (UNI) : While praising the Indian army, Samajwadi Party (SP) president Akhilesh Yadav on Friday said that the terrorist attack on tourists in Pahalgam, Jammu and Kashmir is a security lapse and intelligence failure.

Talking to reporters after unveiling the statue of Shripal Yadav in Khiriya of Mainpuri, Akhilesh said, "Our army is very brave and no country in the world has such a brave army. The soldiers of our army are protecting the border in difficult conditions. On one hand, they protect the border in 50 degree temperature on the border, while on the other they protect the border in minus fifty degree temperature," he said. He said, "But today it is being discussed that there is a shortage of more than one lakh soldiers in the army. Soldiers are not being recruited in the army. The government wants to save the budget. Similarly, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) government has brought the Agniveer system in the army. The government has brought Agniveer Yojana in the army to save the budget. The youth of the country wants a permanent uniform and a permanent job." The SP chief said that when Netaji (Mulayam Singh Yadav) was the Defence Minister of the country, he decided that if a soldier is martyred, his body will be taken to his home with respect, even then the matter of budget came up, but he had said that no matter how much budget is spent, but if the son of a poor, farmer family is martyred on the border, then his body will be taken to his family with full respect.

He said that the terrorist attack on tourists in Pahalgam, Jammu and Kashmir is a security lapse and intelligence failure. "Information is being received from people and various sources that intelligence has failed in this incident. Along with this, the injured did not get the medical facilities and help that should have been provided in time after the attack. The action that should have been taken could not be taken," he said.

Akhilesh said that when the people of BJP were motivating the people to visit Kashmir, how did such a big lapse happen in security? "The biggest question is how did the incident happen? Why did the government not get information about it? The people of the victim's family are crying and telling that they did not get security and help in time," he claimed.

He said that the incident that happened in Pahalgam is very sad. "It cannot be condemned enough. The government should take concrete steps so that such an incident never happens again. SP has put forth its point of view in the all-party meeting and has given suggestions to the government. We want that strict and concrete action should be taken against the enemies of the country, the forces opposing the country's development, progress and humanity, brotherhood, unity should be wiped out forever," he said.

Iran condemns Israeli "aggression" in Gaza, Lebanon

Tehran, April 25 (UNI) : Iran's Foreign Ministry spokesman Esmaeil Baghaei on Friday condemned Israel's "acts of aggression" in Gaza and Lebanon, accusing Israel of "war crimes" and criticizing international inaction.

Baghaei reacted in a ministry statement to deadly Israeli airstrikes across Gaza on Thursday and pointed to the "continuation of Israeli aggressions against Lebanon's sovereignty," the statement said.

Baghaei described Israel's siege of Gaza, prevention of aid entry, and attacks on camps housing displaced Palestinians as "clear instances of war crimes."

The spokesman stated that the United States and some European nations providing arms to Israel "are accomplices in the Israeli crimes."

Baghaei also denounced ongoing Israeli "aggressions" against Lebanon's sovereignty, citing violations of ceasefire agreements, airstrikes, and drone attacks.

He highlighted the responsibility of the United Nations and ceasefire agreement guarantors to stop these Israeli actions, according to the statement.

Almost 2,000 Palestinians have been killed and more than 5,200 others injured since Israel renewed its air and ground assaults on March 18 across Gaza, while the total Palestinian death toll since October 2023 has topped 51,000, according to recent data by Gaza-based health authorities. Israel has also blocked the entry of all humanitarian aid into Gaza since March 2.

Trump says China’s President Xi called him to discuss trade deal

Washington, April 25 (UNI) : US President Donald Trump said in an interview with Time that Chinese President Xi Jinping had reached out to him to discuss trade, although he did not specify the timing of the call."He's called. And I don't think that's a sign of weakness on his behalf," Trump said in the interview marking his first 100 days in office.

Trump noted that, based on his conversation with Xi, he believes there is a tariff level that Beijing is willing to accept. However, he emphasized that he would not permit China to make a trillion dollars in trade with the United States, not even $750 billion.

On April 2, Trump signed an executive order introducing "reciprocal" tariffs on imports from other countries. Their basic rate was set at 10%, while higher rates were introduced against 57 countries and calculated based on the US trade deficit with a specific country: so that there would be a balance instead of a deficit.However, on April 9, the US leader announced that more than 75 countries had not taken retaliatory measures and requested negotiations, so for 90 days, basic import duties of 10% would apply to everyone except China.After a series of steps in the trade war, the additional "reciprocal" US tariff on Chinese goods reached 125%, and China's retaliatory tariff on American goods is also 125%. In addition, the United States has another 20% tariff on China, introduced in connection with accusations of insufficient combat against synthetic drugs.

Medical services hit in Nepal following nationwide boycott by doctors

Kathmandu, April 25 (UNI) : Thousands of ailing patients in Nepal were denied treatment on Friday as the country's doctors' body called a nationwide boycott of all services except emergency and intensive care in solidarity with resident medics protesting over the stipend gap between private and government medical colleges.

According to The Kathmandu Post, resident NMA doctors pursuing MD/MS degrees in private colleges have been demanding stipends on par with those of government-owned colleges, who are currently receiving less than half the amount of their government counterparts.

Currently, postgraduate students (MD/MS) at government-owned institutions receive NPR 48,737 per month, which is equivalent to the salary of a gazetted officer. Private medical colleges, however, have been providing a stipend of only NPR 20,000 to postgraduate students.

In solidarity with their resident doctors and medical students, agitated doctors and postgraduate students from the Nepal Medical Association also staged a protest at Maitighar Mandal in Kathmandu yesterday, and cordoned off the district administration offices.

The NMA representatives and the protesting doctors also held a meeting with Health Minister Pradip Paudel, who expressed support for the demands of the agitating doctors.

“Minister Paudel reiterated that the government is committed to implementing the decision of the 16th meeting of the Medical Education Commission,” said Dr Anil Bikram Karki, president of the association. “But resident doctors need a stipend on par with those of government-owned colleges, not only the minister’s commitment.”

US plans to discuss tariffs with 15 countries including Switzerland : Swiss President

Washington, April 25 (UNI) : The United States plans to hold talks on import tariffs with 15 "privileged" countries, including Switzerland, Swiss President Karin Keller-Sutter said on Friday.

Keller-Sutter and Head of the Swiss Federal Department of Economic Affairs Guy Parmelin have taken part in the spring session of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank in Washington.

"We are satisfied with the negotiations we have conducted. The US is planning talks and wants to find a solution [to the tariff issue] with a group of 15 countries, which I would call the privileged ones. Switzerland is part of this group," Keller-Sutter told the SRF broadcaster.

The president said that now a letter of intent has to be worked out, and the US Treasury Department is also working on it. After that, the two sides can begin negotiations immediately.

Keller-Sutter also said that she had talked with US Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent and the sides had agreed to work out the document, which would include the issues that are most important to the sides. In addition, the US has appointed a contact person for this process.

"The US has clearly expressed its intention to find a joint solution with Switzerland on the issue of tariffs ... It would be better if the tariffs were 0%, because Switzerland has no tariffs on the import of industrial goods. We will see what we can agree on. It is possible that the US will not give up the tariffs completely. We may have to get used to them," she said.

Keller-Sutter specified that no plan with an exact date has been secured. At the same time, both sides understand that they need to move as quickly as possible toward some kind of solution, because uncertainty is very damaging to the economy.

On April 2, US President Donald Trump signed an executive order that implemented reciprocal tariffs on imports from various countries. The base tariff rate was established at 10%, with higher rates applied to 57 countries based on the US trade deficit with each specific nation. On April 9, Trump declared that a baseline

11 killed in drone strike on displacement camp in Sudan

Khartoum, April 25 (UNI) : At least 11 people were killed and over 22 others injured on Friday in a drone strike that hit a camp for internally displaced persons (IDPs) in Al-Damer, the capital of River Nile State in northern Sudan, the state governor said.Governor Mohammed Al-Badawi Abdel-Majid condemned the attack in a statement, describing it as a "crime" committed by the paramilitary Rapid Support Forces (RSF) at dawn on Friday against the IDP camp in the Al-Mogran area. He stated that 11 civilians, mostly women, children, and the elderly, were killed.

He urged the international community and human rights organizations to document the violations and ensure accountability for those responsible. The governor also ordered the relocation of the camp to a safer area to protect the displaced residents.

Separately, the non-governmental Sudanese Doctors Network reported that the "strike was carried out by a swarm of drones that launched four missiles, causing massive explosions and thick smoke over the shelter center and the electrical substation in Atbara city."

The RSF has not commented on the attack. Meanwhile, the Media Coordination Council of the Sudanese Electricity Company said the Atbara substation was targeted by drones on Friday for the fourth time in a short period, leading to a power outage in the River Nile and Red Sea states.

The council confirmed that civil defense teams were working to extinguish the fire caused by the strike, and that technical damage assessments and follow-up measures would take place.

The RSF has recently escalated attacks on key civilian and military sites in the Northern and River Nile states, causing significant damage to the Merowe Dam in northern Sudan and triggering power outages across multiple states.

The conflict between the Sudanese Armed Forces (SAF) and the Rapid Support Forces (RSF), which erupted on April 15, 2023, has killed tens of thousands, displaced over 15 million people, and left Sudan facing what the UN calls one of the world's worst humanitarian crises. UN agencies warn the country is nearing famine, with its healthcare system collapsed and accurate casualty counts nearly impossible to verify.

Death toll from renewed Israeli attacks on Gaza exceeds 2k : Health Ministry

Cairo, April 25 (UNI) : The number of people killed in the Gaza Strip since Israel resumed strikes on the Palestinian enclave on March 18 has reached 2,062, the Gazan health ministry said on Friday.

Trump says Netanyahu ‘felt well’ about his call for more food, medicine into Gaza

Washington, April 25 (UNI) : US President Donald Trump said on Friday that Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu felt well about his urge to get more food and medicine into the Gaza Strip."Well, [he] felt well about it," Trump said, when asked how Netanyahu responded to his request to get more food and medicine into Gaza.Trump said on Tuesday that he spoke with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to discuss Iran and trade, emphasizing that both countries agree on all the matters discussed."Gaza came up and I said, you got to be good to Gaza. Those people are suffering. We got to be good to Gaza ... There's a very big need for medicine, food and medicine, and we're taking care of it," he added.

The UN World Food Programme said earlier in the day that it had fully depleted its food stocks in the Gaza Strip.

No humanitarian or commercial supplies have been able to enter Gaza for over seven weeks, as all major border crossings remain closed, the WFP said, adding that more than 116,000 tonnes of food have been stuck on the border as drivers are waiting for permission to enter the enclave.

The agency called for the resumption of food and humanitarian supplies into Gaza to provide urgent assistance to the civilian population of the enclave.On March 18, Israel resumed strikes on the Gaza Strip, citing Palestinian movement Hamas' refusal to accept the US plan to extend the ceasefire, which expired on March 1. Israel cut off electricity supply to a desalination plant in the Gaza Strip and closed off entry to trucks carrying humanitarian aid.

IMF, Sri Lanka make progress in 4th review of reform program

Colombo, April 25 (UNI) : International Monetary Fund (IMF) staff and the Sri Lankan authorities have reached a staff-level agreement on economic policies to conclude the Fourth Review of Sri Lanka's reform program supported by the IMF's Extended Fund Facility (EFF), the IMF said in a statement on Friday.

Once the review is approved by the IMF Executive Board, Sri Lanka will have access to about 344 million U.S. dollars in financing, bringing the total IMF financial support disbursed under the arrangement to about 1.72 billion dollars, the IMF said.

Sri Lanka's ambitious reform agenda continues to deliver commendable outcomes, and the 5-percent economic growth in 2024 is remarkable, the IMF said. Revenue mobilization reforms had improved the revenue-to-GDP ratio to 13.5 percent in 2024, from 8.2 percent in 2022.The IMF added that the country's gross official reserves reached 6.5 billion dollars at end-March 2025, given sizable foreign exchange purchases by the central bank. While substantial fiscal reforms have strengthened public finances, Sri Lanka's debt restructuring is nearly complete, said the statement."The new government's sustained commitment to program objectives has enhanced confidence and ensures policy continuity. Going forward, sustaining reform momentum, including by reducing corruption vulnerabilities, is critical to safeguard the hard-won gains, durably restore macroeconomic and debt sustainability, and unlock robust and inclusive growth," it added.

Stand straight with legs wide apart. Now bend forward from your waist. Try and touch the ground with the tips of your fingers, if possible place both your hands on the ground while standing. Your upper body should be in a straight line. Look ahead by about 3 inches. Perform konasana for 10 to 30 seconds and breathe normally throughout the asana.

7: Bhastrika for your abdomen-

Sit in a comfortable position with your back straight. Close your eyes and start exhaling and inhaling via nose by focusing on the abdominal muscles. As soon as you release your abdominal muscles you'll realize that your diaphragm contracts before you start to inhale. Hear the sound of your breath and perform this asana 5 times at a stretch. Give it a pause. Breathe normally. And start again. Complete one to two rounds on a daily basis and increase the number of your breaths by 5, each week.

8: Leg Extension Asana-

Sit in a comfortable position with one leg bent and placed on a chair or desk in front of you. Place both your hands on your feet. Keeping your spine straight, inhale and extend your leg outward while holding it with your hands. Stay in this position for 3 to 5 breaths. Exhale as you come back to the normal position, while moving your hands and placing them on your waist. Stay in this position for 3 to 5 breaths. Relax. Perform 5 to 10 rounds like this. Read more Personal

Bring back your childhood Exercises

The fun, excitement, fights and the boisterous yelling of childhood is etched in all our hearts.

We all share a similar memory, returning from school, indulging in snacks and hustling down to play with your friends. Most of us knew ourselves to be strong, agile and energetic back then. Then why is that the very activities that worked for us and made us fit as kids are relegated to 'childhood' memories alone? We take a look at childhood activities and exercises that can help us shape up through adulthood. Begin today!

Skipping rope: How do you reduce body fat and build stamina in a short period of time? Skipping rope is your answer; you can skip at home, it doesn't cost much, is convenient and a great exercise if you are on the run. Take notes: It will help you increase your cardio vascular capacity and lung capacity, also builds your agility, speed, balance, and coordination. You can burn roughly 1,000 calories per hour. But remember - skipping rope for an hour is stuff athlete workouts are made of.

Monkey bars: You want to build your strength, get primitive, well not literally. Most playgrounds and schools have monkey bars and kids love it. It helps in back development and is a great addition to any upper body workout. It gives a whole new meaning to hanging around with friends. Cycling: All of us have fallen off a bicycle, but that didn't deter us from cycling around and popping a wheely. But now a car or a bike is the most preferred mode of transport. Well yes, it is convenient but doesn't make us sweat. Cycling is a full body workout, builds your cardio respiratory health, also muscle and strength. Whatever the problem-stress, weight loss, heart disease or shaping your body cycling is perfect for you.

Running: From the time we are toddlers to adulthood we are always running. It comes naturally to kids but it's a stretch for adults. Run if you want to be fit, lose weight, increase stamina, tone your body and the list goes on. But a word of caution, running can cause certain injuries.

Hula hoop: A baby of the 60s, hula hoops are evergreen with young girls. Once you get the rhythm of the twirl, you can sweat out 100 calories in ten minutes. Hula hoop wards off cardiovascular illness; it improves your co-ordination and helps in muscle tone. But if you're going to hula hoop for fitness, check out workout hula hoops meant for exercise. They are different from the ones available in stores.

Climbing: As kids we have scaled walls and climbed trees; now that you're an adult you can't do the exact same thing, but you can still engage in rock climbing. Along with the above activities, climbing also improves cardiovascular health, weight loss and improves muscle tone. This common trend running through childhood games makes you want to go back to the past.

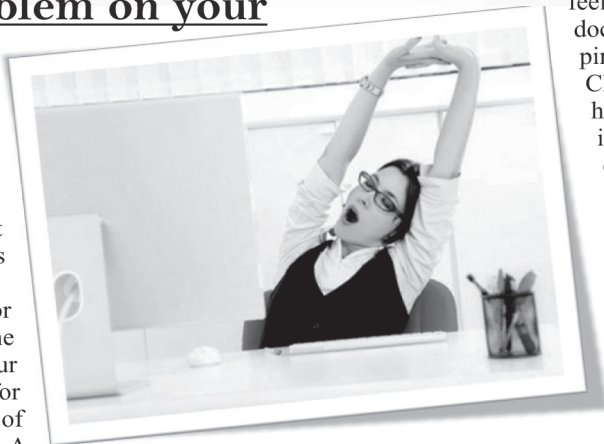

Swimming: This is one activity we wish was included in our school curriculum. Swimming is the best activity during summers. Besides, swimming can do wonders to your body mentally and physically. It builds muscles, improves strength, and you are guaranteed a healthy heart and powerful lungs. A full body workout, swimming improves co-ordination, posture, and is a great way to bust stress.

Outdoor sports: As Indians, sport is the last thing we want to engage in unless it plays on the tube. But if we did engage in sports we wouldn't be obese, sluggish, or have a string of ailments. They say laughter is the best medicine, but outdoor sports can beat it any day. It's beneficial for heart problems and other diseases, co-ordination, conditioning, and builds you mentally, keeps you alert and is a lot of fun.

In today's fast paced world, stress and running around are an inevitable part of most peoples lives. And while lethargy and tiredness are commonplace, if you find yourself constantly thinking of doing nothing but just lying down, you may have a problem on your hands.

While there may be several underlying issues when it comes to feeling drained out, some of the most common ones include...
- An iron deficiency or anaemia is one of the first things that your doctor will check for when you complain of frequent tiredness. A lack of iron in your diet will result in lethargy after some time. While anaemia is more prevalent among women, men also get affected. And doctors say that an increasing number of young women today are suffering from this ailment (menstruating women are most prone to anaemia). One of the best ways to keep this ailment at bay is to eat a diet rich in iron — think green, leafy vegetables.

- Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS) is another common ailment that makes one feel constantly exhausted, which eventually affects the quality of one's life. Patients often complain that in spite of sleeping for the stipulated hours daily, they still end up feeling tired the next day. While doctors say that it is difficult to pinpoint what exactly causes CFS, some reasons include a hormonal imbalance, a viral infection, low immunity or even stress. Treatment differs from patient to patient and include a range of therapies.
- Another reason could be fluctuating blood sugar levels. Diabetes may have different symptoms and one common one happens to be often feeling exhausted. Other symptoms include frequent trips to the washroom and feeling thirsty. A simple blood test will help you figure out if your blood levels are in control.
- Feeling depressed or anxious about something? This could cause to to feel tired often, worsening other symptoms. Don't hesitate to visit a mental health care expert for treatment.

Should you eat curd at night?

The hot season is here and so is the urge to consume foods that cool down your system. Curd, evidently, stands on top of the list. And why not. Curd is an excellent source of good bacteria and aids digestion. It is good for your teeth and bones. But as with most of the foods, there are some rules that you need to follow for consuming curd. One of the most commonly heard rules is to avoid eating it at night. But is it valid for everyone. Here are some of the rules:
- Do not eat curd at night, especially if you are prone to cough and cold. Ayurveda explains that curd consumption at night is not good as it leads to mucus development. But if you can't do without it, opt for buttermilk instead.
- If you are eating curd during the day, have it without sugar but if you are eating curd at night, add sugar or some black pepper. It will assist in digestion and calm your digestive system.

- Never have hot curd.
While the basic rules apply, if you are a curd lover, we bring you some easy options to include it in your diet, anytime of the day:

Curd rice: This is very good for the stomach and a light option for the summers too.
Curd with sugar: Add a spoonful of sugar to your curd and you are good to go.
Buttermilk/ Lassi: Ditch aerated drinks for these two options.
Raita: A common Indian side dish, you can add onion, cucumber, tomato to your curd with some herbs and a healthy option is all set.
Kadhi: Mixing gram flour (besan) with buttermilk makes for an appetizing curry called Kadhi. It is mostly eaten with rice (you might want to opt for brown rice).

England all-rounder Jamie Overton sets sight on Test comeback for Ashes

London, April 25 (UNI) : Jamie Overton made his Test debut for England back in 2022, but hasn't been able to find his place back in the red-ball setup since. For the 31-year-old, the past year has been one where he has had to climb his way back up in the English cricket pyramid. Missing out on last year's ICC Men's T20 World Cup owing to an injury has lent Overton a fresh perspective, and the all-rounder is now keen on making the most of his career, eyeing a spot in the

Katie Boulter out of Madrid Open with loss to Jasmine Paolini

Madrid, April 25 (UNI) : British number one Katie Boulter has been knocked out of the Madrid Open in the second round by Jasmine Paolini. The Italian, ranked six in the world, dropped just three games as she beat Boulter 6-1 6-2 within 61 minutes in the Spanish capital. The 2024 French Open runner-up converted six of her seven break points, setting up a last-32 tie against Greece's Maria Sakkari. Boulter, who earned the first WTA clay-court win of her career against Katerina Siniakova in the first round, won just 11 points out of 46 on serve and made 21 unforced errors overall, the BBC reported.

Kalinga Super Cup: Kerala Blasters face young Mohun Bagan, Goa wary of Punjab threat

Bhubaneswar, April 25 (UNI) : Down to the last eight teams, the Kalinga Super Cup 2025 is now at its business end. The Round of 16 matches at the Kalinga Stadium in Bhubaneswar threw up some rather surprising results, with both the defending champions East Bengal FC, and last year's runners-up Odisha FC being knocked out of the competition, while I-League club Inter Kashi, against all odds, defeated ISL 2024-25 cup runners-ups Bengaluru FC on penalties. Meanwhile, the likes of Mumbai City FC and NorthEast United FC made a statement of intent with their respective victories against Chennaiyin FC (4-0) and Mohammedan Sporting (6-0). Day 1 of the quarter-finals will feature two of the most popular clubs in the country, as Kerala Blasters FC take on the reigning ISL Shield and Cup champions Mohun Bagan Super Giant, while FC Goa face Punjab

Test squad for the Ashes later this year. "I am in a better place now for being injured. It actually gave me time to reassess what I need to do with my health," Overton told ESPN. Making a case for himself for the five-Test series in Australia, Overton added, "Ashes cricket is probably the pinnacle for English players, and I feel like I've got a decent record on Australian pitches. "It probably suits my game more than wickets back in England - but I'm not

After Harsh Patel's four wicket haul, SRH batsmen aced the chase, overhauls CSK target

Chennai, April 25 (UNI) : After medium pacer Harsh Patel's four wicket haul that dented home favourites and Chennai Super Kings (CSK) setting a good target, Sun Risers Hyderabad (SRH) aced the chase with rather consummate ease for their first win taming the Lions in its own den at the historic and iconic M A Chidambaram Stadium here on Friday night. After left hander Ishan Kishan's heroics, SRH stuttered in the chase, before Kamindu Mendis and Nitish Kumar Reddy took the team past the finishing line after CSK spinner Noor Ahmed picked up two wickets in succession to put the visitors in a spot of bother. While the win took SRH to the 8th place in points table, CSK's hopes of a play off berth has almost nose dived, suffering its seventh defeat in nine matches and still remained at the bottom of the table and would be keen to restore its credibility in its remaining matches to avoid finishing as wooden spoonists. SRH after bowling out CSK for 154 in 19.5 overs, thanks mainly to Harshal Patel's

FC. Both matches will be broadcast live on Star Sports 3, and streamed live on JioHotstar. A resurgent Kerala Blasters FC take on Mohun Bagan SG in the first quarter-final on Saturday, at 4.30 pm IST. The Kalinga Super Cup quarter-finals is new territory for Kerala Blasters, who have made it to the last eight for the first time, under head coach David Català, who was appointed only a few weeks prior to the tournament. Having defeated the defending champions, the Blasters will ride high on confidence, especially while facing a Mohun Bagan side who have brought a number of players from their developmental team. However, Català is wary of the Green and Maroons' qualities. "We're going to face all the games with the same attitude, to try to win the game. We just need to be focused on the game," said Català. "It's not an expecting anything." Overton, however, admitted that vying for a spot in the Ben Stokes-led Test side will take some doing. "I need to play red-ball cricket to give myself a chance of being there, so we'll just see where we get to when I'm back home," said the all-rounder, who is currently part of the Chennai Super Kings squad in IPL 2025. "I bowled ten overs in the Afghanistan game [at the Champions Trophy], but I've not bowled more

4 for 28, started off their chase losing a couple of wickets, before Ishan Kishan restored pride, only to lose wickets in the middle reviving CSK's fortunes. But Kamindu Mendis (32, 22 balls 3x4) and Nitish Kumar Reddy (19, 13 balls 2x4) came up with a flurry of boundaries to seal the chase as the visitors finished at 155 for five with eight balls to spare and in the process secured its first win against CSK at its den. At five for 106 in 13.5 overs, SRH was wavering after Ishan Kishan struck five fours and a six in his 34-ball 44, despite losing openers Abhishek Sharma (0), Travis Head (19), Heinrich Klaas (7), Aniket Verma (19), who fell to poor shot selection. But Mendis and Reddy ensured that there were no further hiccups crossing the finishing line with ease, despite the exit of Ishan Kishan. Earlier, Brevis blistering 42 in 25 balls (four sixers, one four) was the only saving grace as CSK, as has been the norm this season, lost wickets in the power play—three this time—one more at the halfway stage before Brevis tried to inject some life.

advantage (to face a young MBSG team). I think they are strong enough to compete against all the teams. They have quality players and are the champions of the league and the ISL Cup. So facing them is going to be difficult." Mohun Bagan SG are the only team who have not yet played a match in the competition, after being awarded a bye in the Round of 16 post Churchill Brothers' withdrawal from the competition. With a spot in the AFC Champions League Two already in their bag, Mohun Bagan SG have opted to try out some of their younger players from the developmental squad in the Kalinga Super Cup, announcing midfielder Deepak Tangri as the captain of the side. Coach Bastab Roy, who is filling in for Jose Molina, though, wants to make full use of the tournament at his disposal. He said, "Our main motivation is to play, enjoy than that in a day since last April. "It's going to take a lot to get the body back to those bowling workloads, and we'll just see where we go and play it by ear. "It's a short career, so you've got to maximise it while keeping your body in a good place." Overton was part of the England squad during this year's ICC Champions Trophy, where the Jos Buttler-led side were knocked out of the group stage without a win from their three games. With five ODI and 12 T20I outings under his belt for the national team, Overton will be among those contesting for a spot in the upcoming home summer that features the likes of West Indies, South Africa and Ireland touring for white-ball series. For the all-rounder, an opportunity in the red-ball squad might also present itself with a one-off match against Zimbabwe in May, followed by a marquee five-Test match series against India starting in June.

McIlroy & Lowry six off Zurich Classic pace

Zurich, April 25 (UNI) : Rory McIlroy and partner Shane Lowry are six off the pace after an opening eight-under-par 64 as they began the defence of their Zurich Classic title. In his first competitive round since winning the Masters and completing the career Grand Slam, McIlroy struggled on the opening nine as Lowry kept them in contention in the team event. The pair started at the 10th and McIlroy said he "didn't do anything" before improving after the turn when he birdied the first and eagled the second. "Shane joked I could have got a couple extra hours in bed if I wanted to," said McIlroy. "I played a bit better coming in. It was OK." The Irish pair trail Isaiah Salinda and Kevin Velo who fired a 58 in the opening fourball round, which put them a stroke ahead of Danish brothers Rasmus and Nicolai Hojgaard, the BBC reported. "We felt like we left a few shots out there but we were just saying the two foursomes days on Friday and Sunday here are the important days in this tournament," added McIlroy, 35. "It's important for us to obviously post a good score tomorrow." Collin Morikawa and fellow US player Kurt Kitayama are in the group sharing third place after a 61, with England's Matt Wallace and Danish partner Thorbjorn Olesen a further stroke back. England's Aaron Rai and American Sahithi Theegala shot a 63 with the pairings of Scotland's Robert MacIntyre and Belgium's Thomas Detry and European Ryder Cup captain Luke Donald and Colombia's Camilo Villegas sharing 28th spot with McIlroy and Lowry. The fourball element sees both players hitting their own ball with the best score counting, while players take alternate shots with one ball in the foursomes. The reigning champions have never successfully defended the Zurich Classic title.

Karna Kadur, Musa Sherif lead in APRC, Overall categories

Chennai, April 25 (UNI) : Reigning National champion Karna Kadur from Bengaluru set the early pace to take a slender lead in the FIA Asia Pacific Rally Championship promoted by Vamcy Merla after two loops of the short Super Special Stage which kick-started the Indu Chandhok Memorial 48th South India Rally at the Madras International Circuit, here on Friday. Kadur, representing Arka Motorsports with veteran Musa Sherif (Kasargod) in the co-driver's seat, not only topped the chart in the APRC (Asia Cup) segment, but also led the field in the Blueband FMSCI Indian National Rally Championship 2025 Round-1 powered by Vamcy Merla, sparing half-a-second to team-mate, Mangaluru's Jason Saldanha (co-driver PV Srinivasa Murthy from Bengaluru). Former National champion Amitrajit Ghosh (Ashwin Naik) finished the day in third spot behind Kadur and Saldanha in both APRC and the National championship to complete a 1-2-3 for Arka Motorsports at the end of Day-1. Kadur made a couple of errors in the first run of the 1.45 Kms circuit which saw him finish second behind Saldanha. However, he found his rhythm and flow in the second loop as he drove the Volkswagen Polo with far more control to take pole position going into Saturday's Special Stages. Reflecting on his performance, Kadur said: "I made a couple of mistakes in the first loop, fluffing the start and then hitting a small bund which we had not noticed during the recce. It unsettled the car, but I managed to keep it all together. In the second run, I was far more comfortable and had a good drive. Anyway, today's run was just starters, the main course is tomorrow." Further down the grid, Saldanha took the lead in the INRC2 class while Sheshank Janwal (Raghu) topped the time sheets in the INRC3 category and Pragathi Gowda (Chandramouli M) was ahead in the Women INRC. Meanwhile, the turbo-charged Hyundai i20, making its entry in the Indian Rally scene, attracted considerable attention as Hyderabad's Jeet Jhabakh (co-driver V Sekhar from Coimbatore) came in 12th Overall but topped the newly introduced INRC 3T class. "I am still settling down in the new car, getting used to the turbo engine. I was exiting the corners a bit slow due to the turbo lag and that is something I must work on. But otherwise, it was an okay outing, and my learning process will continue," said Jhabakh. In all, 49 competitors took the start in the three-day event which concludes on Sunday afternoon. The results (Leg-1, Section-1, Provisional): FIAAPRC/Overall: 1. Karna Kadur / Musa Sherif (Arka Motorsports) (02mins, 50.9 seconds); 2. Everyone wants to play for Manchester United: Amorim

London, April 25 (UNI) : Manchester United head coach Ruben Amorim is adamant the club remain attractive to potential transfer targets despite sitting 14th in the Premier League table. The Portuguese, who took over in November, says he has "an idea" of what he wants his squad to look like next season. Given United are heading for their worst finish since the 1973-74 relegation campaign, it seems certain he is wanting to execute major surgery. United are interested in Wolves' Brazilian forward Matheus Cunha and have also been heavily linked with Ipswich Town striker Liam Delap, who has a £30m release clause that will make him attractive to a number of clubs. United need to win the Europa League to qualify for the Champions League, and are at risk of only a second season without European football since English clubs were allowed back in 1990 following the Heysel tragedy, the BBC reported. Amorim has no doubts about whether United are an attractive proposition despite that. "It's Manchester United," he said. "Every player wants to play for Manchester United. "If you look at our club in the moment, with all the problems, including changing coach, it looks a little bit of a problem. "But we have a clear idea and that's the easiest part to explain for a player." Amorim refused to confirm United's interest in Cunha, who has a £62.5m release clause and is understood to be open to an Old Trafford switch. The former Sporting boss cited veteran midfielder Casemiro as an example of a player who has changed his mind about their long-term future at the club. The Brazil midfielder, 33, has a year left on his deal and recently said he would like to stay at Old Trafford. And Amorim said United's plans for next season's squad are starting to take shape.

A Bench comprising Justice Surya Kant and Justice N. Kotiswar Singh came down heavily on Shekher for the offensive post and questioned the sincerity of his apology.

The Bench further added, “You must be harassing so many women. This time, you were confronted with a Journalist Association attack.”

However, the Court was unconvinced. “Probably whatever your vocabulary had, you had put the entire vocabulary on Twitter,” the
