CM questions PM over calling off war against Pak 'hurriedly' without seeking opinions from all parties

(Standard Post Bureau)

Hyderabad, May 29 :Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy on Thursday questioned the Modi government for "calling off the war hurriedly" within four days after the May 7 military strike on Pakistan.

He said that Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge had attended the all-party meeting and extended full support to the Centre and made it clear that India should fight against Pakistan to merge the POK (Pakistan Occupied Kashmir) with our country in the meeting.

"We also announced our strong support to the Prime Minister in the fight against Pakistan-sponsored terrorism and to erase the country from the world map, but 'Why was no all-party meeting called to seek the opinions of all parties before declaring a ceasefire?'" Revanth asked the Centre while addressing the crowds after participating in a 'Jai Hind Yatra and Sabha' at Nizampet, on the outskirts of the city.

Affirming that only a leader with courage and determination prepares the war strategy, the CM said that former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had shown bravery by declaring a war on China and gave a stern warning to the rival country.

The CM criticised PM Modi for not taking any action against China after Indian Army official Colonel Santosh Kumar was killed in the fight against the Chinese army at the LAC in 2020.

He remembered "invincible leader" Indira Gandhi's strong warning to America when it tried to mediate between India and Pakistan during the 1971 war.

"It was Indira Gandhi who taught a befitting lesson to Pakistan by dividing the enemy country into two parts during the 1971 war," he said.

"In the true spirit of India Gandhi," the Chief Minister said that he had "already declared his full support to split Pakistan into two countries".

He took strong exception to "calling off the war by the Modi government at the behest of US President Donald Trump's orders".

The CM wondered why the BJP leadership is organising Tiranga Rally after the end of the war.

"The war is not your business and it is an important issue of national security," he said, and added that the Congress is organising 'Jai Hind Yatra' to "instill self confidence among Indian soldiers who were demoralised by the BJP's moves".

Revanth Reddy reiterated that the Congress and Gandhi family have the history of sacrificing their lives for the country.

Calling PM Modi "a spent force", the CM appealed to the party leaders and workers "to strive hard and not relax until Rahul Gandhi becomes Prime Minister".

He asserted that India needs a strong leader like Rahul Gandhi in the difficult times. Expressing gratitude to the people for their unflinching support and hard work in electing him as the Chief Minister, Revanth Reddy recounted the slogans raised at Necklace road that all the terrorists who shot bullets into the hearts of Indians at Pahal-gam should be wiped out.

Kavitha slams BRS leaders: 'Loyal to KCR, not to arrogance'

(Standard Post Bureau)

Hyderabad, May 29 : BRS MLC K. Kavitha launched a scathing attack on her own party leaders while reiterating her unwavering loyalty to BRS chief and father, K Chandrashekar Rao (KCR).

Speaking to the media in Hyderabad on Thursday, Kavitha voiced her anguish over the treatment she has received within the party, questioning the silence and inaction of senior leaders while defending herself against internal criticism.

"What's wrong if I write a letter to my father? Why does it bother you?" she asked pointedly, expressing dismay over the moral policing by BRS leaders. She slammed those "working in the shadow of KCR" for their arrogance and alleged betrayal.

Kavitha revealed that her internal feedback to the party was deliberately leaked and that she was being maligned on social media by "paid artists." "Is it polite to talk about the daughter of the house like this?" she demanded, warning leaders not to test her patience.

Taking aim at working president K T Rama Rao (KTR), she questioned the party's silence in the face of notices served to KCR by Chief Minister Revanth Reddy. "What is tweeting without action?" she asked, challenging BRS to confront the Congress and BJP rather than targeting her.

In a dramatic claim, Kavitha hinted at a conspiracy to merge BRS with BJP, saying she had advised KCR from jail not to rush such decisions. "Should we now assume there are BJP covert agents within BRS?" she asked.

She also condemned false reports about her political ambitions and accused certain MLAs from her own party of engineering her defeat in Nizamabad. "Even then, KCR didn't want me to resign," she recalled, asserting that she would only step down if instructed by KCR.

Addressing allegations of aligning with Congress, Kavitha dismissed them as lies, labeling the Congress a "sinking ship." She reiterated her position clearly: "My party is BRS. My leader is KCR". "Kavitha called for safeguarding Telangana's interests, voicing concern over Andhra Pradesh's Banakacharla project and the unresolved distribution of Godavari waters, warning of potential long-term losses for the state."

MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal, said at a media briefing, with regard to a court filing in the US in this regard:

"Our position on this particular issue has been well articulated. I would refer you to our position that was made clear on 13th of May. From the time Operation

27L workers protest against privatisation of 42 districts

Lucknow, May 29 (UNI) : On the call of the National Coordination Committee of Electricity Employees and Engineers, the power workers, junior engineers and engineers of all the states of the country on Thursday demonstrated in protest against the privatisation of electricity being done by 42 districts in Uttar Pradesh.

Chairman of All India Power Engineers Federation (AIPF), Shailendra Dubey and Secretary General P Ratnakar Rao said that the UP government has decided to privatise Purvanchal Electricity Distribution Corporation and Dakshinanchal Power Distribution Corporation by giving misleading data in DISCOMS of the state.

Dubey said, "Because of it there is a lot of anger among the electricity workers."

The office-bearers said that the electricity workers of UP have been continuously agitating for the last 06 months, but it is a matter of great regret that the government has not held talks with them even once.They informed that due to wrong power purchase agreements in UP, Discoms have to pay Rs 6,761 crore annually to private power generation companies without purchasing a single unit of electricity.

The office-bearers said that apart from this, an additional burden of about Rs 10,000 crore per year is coming from private houses at very expensive power purchase rates.

"In UP, government departments owe Rs 14,400 crore electricity revenue. According to the policy of the UP government, free electricity is provided to the farmers, electricity consumers below the poverty line are provided electricity at the rate of Rs 3 per unit while the cost of electricity is Rs 7.85 paise per unit. Weavers are also subsidised. The amount of subsidy is about 22,000 crore rupees. The UP government tells them all the deficit and on this basis, privatisation has been decided," they said.

The office-bearers alleged that it seems that the officials of UP Power Corporation Limited and some big officials of the government are in collusion with selected private houses.

"They want to sell Discom assets worth lakhs of crores of rupees to private houses at throw away prices," they said.

The office-bearers said that in eastern UP lives the poorest people of the state.

"In Dakshinanchal, very poor people live in the area of Bundelkhand where there is also a problem of drinking water. After privatisation, the end of the subsidy of consumers here will mean that consumers will have to buy electricity at the rate of Rs 10 to 12 per unit, which they will not be able to do. Thus the poor people of UP are being pushed into the lantern era," they alleged.

The office-bearers said that in protest against the privatisation of electricity being done in UP, 27 lakh power workers across the country staged a widespread protest during the lunch hours, holiday on all districts and projects and showed their solidarity with the power workers of UP.The office-bearers said, "Electricity employees have warned that if any harassment of any electricity workers of UP, then all the 27 lakh electricity workers of the country will not be mute spectators and will be forced to move on the road and agitate, which will have all the responsibility of the state government," they said.The office-bearers said that on Thursday big demonstrations were held mainly at Hyderabad, Trivandrum, Vijayawada, Chennai, Bangalore, Mumbai, Nagpur, Raipur, Bhopal, Jabalpur,Vadodara, Rajkot, Guwahati, Shillong, Kolkata, Bhubaneswar, Patna, Ranchi, Srinagar, Jammu, Shimla, Dehradun, Patiala, Jaipur,Kota,Hisarand Lucknow.

Congress launches
'Jai Hind Yatra' in support of soldiers

Hyderabad, May 29 (UNI) : The Congress party launched its ‘Jai Hind Yatra’ in Telangana on Thursday as part of a nationwide campaign initiated by the All India Congress Committee (AICC) to express solidarity with soldiers risking their lives for the nation.

The yatra began with a massive rally from VNR Engineering College to KGR Convention Centre in Medchal constituency. It saw participation from prominent Congress leaders, including Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy, AICC in-charge, Meenakshi Natarajan, TPCC President and MLC Mahesh Kumar Goud, along with other ministers and senior party members.

Speaking at the event, Chief Minister Revanth Reddy asserted that national security should be above political interests. Referring to the Indian Army’s Operation Sindoor, he said, “We supported the operation beyond political lines, and in solidarity, the Congress organised the Jai Hind Rally here in Medchal.”

Revanth questioned Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s silence over the reported cessation of the operation, pointing out that former US President Donald Trump publicly claimed he had halted the war.“Why didn’t the Prime Minister brief the nation after the operation ended? If a leader wants to defeat Pakistan, he should follow the path shown by Indira Gandhi, who once stood up to US pressure and led to the creation of Bangladesh,” he said.

He added, “This is not about elections. The rally was organised to protect the self-respect of our soldiers, not to seek votes. Modi is like an outdated rupee; the country needs Rahul Gandhi’s leadership today.”TPCC President Mahesh Kumar Goud saluted Indian soldiers for their courage in counter-terror operations, stating, “The recent Pahalgam incident reminds us of the resolute leadership of Indira Gandhi, who responded decisively during the 1971 war. Even BJP stalwart Atal Bihari Vajpayee once hailed her as the ‘Iron Lady’ in Parliament.”

He criticised the BJP-led central government for its “weak response” and ceasefire decision under US pressure, adding that the current leadership failed to stand firm like Indira Gandhi did.“Instead of addressing national security failures, BJP leaders are targeting Rahul Gandhi to divert public attention,” he said, asserting that the Jai Hind Yatra is being held under the guidance of Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge.

87 pc of Indian firms shift focus to domestic markets amid global uncertainties

Amid global uncertainties, Indian businesses are rethinking their trade strategies to adapt to evolving market dynamics, with 87 per cent of firms pivoting their focus toward domestic clients, prioritising local customer needs to ensure stability, a new HSBC Global report said.

About 76 per cent of Indian firms are reassessing their long-term business strategies in response to changes in trade policies, while 80 per cent report exercising greater caution in expansion and investment decisions due to trade-related uncertainties, according to the 'HSBC Global Trade Pulse Survey'.

It examined the business strategies and sentiments of 5,750 international companies in 13 global markets, including 250 firms from India, in relation to tariffs and trade.

“Indian businesses are demonstrating remarkable resilience and adaptability in the face of global trade uncertainties. The findings highlight a pivotal shift, with Indian firms recalibrating their focus toward domestic markets and actively exploring new regions to mitigate risks and seize emerging opportunities,” said Runa Baksi, Head of Global Trade Solutions, HSBC India.

This dual approach underscores the agility of Indian enterprises in navigating complex trade dynamics while maintaining an optimistic outlook on growth, Baksi added.

In light of the current trade dynamics, businesses are adopting various strategies to navigate uncertainties.

A significant 91 per cent of Indian firms are focusing on entering new markets, particularly in regions less affected by trade disruptions, while 87 per cent are shifting their attention to domestic markets, prioritizing local customers, and minimising international exposure.

Additionally, 82 per cent are choosing to exit high-risk markets impacted by trade uncertainty, and 87 per cent are exploring mergers and acquisitions to bolster their market position or strengthen supply chains through strategic partnerships.

The survey also shows 83 per cent of Indian firms (73 per cent global average) anticipate a substantial rise in cost in the next six months due to trade uncertainties, with 51 per cent of these firms being concerned by the escalating expenses driven by tariffs and other trade-related factors.

To address these challenges, 42 per cent of Indian companies have already adjusted their prices to account for higher costs, while 48 per cent are planning similar measures.

Additionally, 45 per cent of Asian firms have increased their inventory levels to mitigate supply chain disruptions, with another 48 per cent of Indian firms intending to follow suit, said the report.

Why sustainable startups are key to achieving global net-zero goals

(By IANS)

In a world where the climate change crisis and resource depletion threaten the world's future, a new generation of businesses is rising to the challenge. These startups are not just chasing profit — they are driven by passion, fuelling innovation with sustainability to create solutions that protect the environment while taking the economic growth forward.

Whether through boosting the power of renewable energy, changing waste management with circular economy models, or developing cutting-edge green technologies, these businesses are writing new ways of what it means to be successful in the turbulent world.

Interestingly, business sustainability involves using present practices that fulfill current needs and preserve future people's ability to meet their requirements. The world's critical environmental problems demand startups to become catalysts of sustainable innovation.

Startups show both flexibility and readiness for adventure; thus, they function ahead in their mission to develop revolutionary solutions for environmental challenges. The main sectors where sustainable startups produce meaningful changes involve renewable energy, the circular economy, and green technology.

New businesses across these sectors focus on developing solutions that minimize resource usage while decreasing environmental impacts. Sustainable startups create the future direction of business by proving that operational success can co-exist with respect for nature and society to build an equitable and sustainable global economy.

The rise of Sustainable Startups

Corporate sustainability emerges as an essential business requirement because consumers, together with regulatory bodies and financial backers, now focus on environmental preservation. Various important reasons push forward systemic changes toward environmentally friendly startups. People have become more aware of environmental issues, which drives them to seek products and services that reduce ecological impact.

People understand their effect on the environment better today and seek to support businesses that share their sustainability positions. Sustainable practices receive government backing through policies that reward companies doing their part to cut down emissions and waste quantities. The implemented environmental policies establish both a sustainable future perspective and equal competition standards for businesses dedicated to sustainability.

The growing interest of investors in ESG factors drives the expansion of sustainable startups. Sustainable business operations leading to long-term viability and possible future profits attract investment from the market.

The marketplace embraces startups like Tesla and Beyond Meat because they have achieved remarkable success in transforming the electric vehicle and plant-based food industries. The urban transportation sector sees significant carbon emission reductions from BluSmart Mobility, which operates as India's initial exclusive electric ride-hailing provider. These organisations show the potential for sustainable innovation to create profitable business operations that drive the market towards environmental sustainability.

In 2024, the Indian startup ecosystem continued to embrace sustainability with notable investments and developments. The government has allocated Rs 35,000 crore through the Strategic Startups Fund to support sectors like electric vehicles and green energy solutions.

Key innovations driving sustainable startups

Startups focused on sustainability serve as the leading force of innovation by creating major advancements throughout different market segments. Companies in the renewable energy and clean tech space lead new technological developments in solar power and wind energy while improving battery storage methods. Through their operations, these businesses simultaneously enhance energy efficiency while supplying environmentally friendly energy solutions, which serve as vital elements in fighting climate change.

Startups like BluSmart Mobility, an electric ride-hailing provider, are working to reduce carbon emissions in urban transport. Meanwhile, Saatvik Solar is expanding its solar cell manufacturing capabilities with plans for a 2 GW plant, while Varaha incentivises regenerative farming practices, contributing to CO2 sequestration.

The circular economy, together with waste reduction, has gained momentum through startup leadership from Loop and Plastic Bank. Such businesses convert ordinary waste products into practical resources to adopt circular economic principles. The combination of material reuse with advanced recycling innovations lets them develop environmentally beneficial solutions together with business development chances.

A sustainable transformation takes place within the fashion and consumer goods industry. Allbirds and Pangaia, together with other brands, lead industry standards through ethical sourcing habits while manufacturing goods from materials that disappear naturally. These firms seek to fulfill customer requirements for sustainable products, which leads to new industry standards.

Startup companies within the agri-tech and food sustainability sectors deploy advanced technologies to transform how we produce food. Corporate entities Apeel Sciences and Plenty leverage advanced farming techniques, including vertical systems and artificial meat cultivation with AI-based agricultural automation, to enhance both food safety and environmental sustainability. The advances optimise resource utilization while decreasing traditional agricultural environmental impact, creating a path toward sustainable development.

High investment and operational complexities

The installation of eco-friendly practices, together with their development, requires substantial startup funding, which creates a main hurdle for sustainable startups. New businesses desiring innovation within the fashion industry might face substantial barriers because of these startup expenditures. Among the most prominent obstacles sustainable startups encounter is the difficulty of expanding their sustainable operations because they need intricate supply chain systems that place technical hurdles above traditional industry standards.

Sustainable operations become more complex, thus requiring additional expenses during both operational phases and logistical coordination. Sustainable startups find themselves challenged by existing non-sustainable businesses that hold bigger resources and market dominance, thus blocking new entrants from successfully entering.

Sustainable startups have many opportunities available to them despite facing multiple obstacles. The government offers valuable funding and supportive measures for green projects to boost both financial backing and innovative development. A growing number of buyers want to buy products that provide both environmental and societal benefits because they understand the complete implications of their purchasing decisions.

The change in consumer preferences about sustainable purchasing opens multiple opportunities for startups to succeed in capturing new market segments. Modern technological developments reduce the costs of sustainable solutions while making them more accessible to startups through more efficient implementation of innovative systems. Sustainable startups will shape the industry's sustainability transition because they have seized valuable market possibilities.

Across the globe, sustainable startups play an essential role in restructuring business operations by developing innovative solutions to current environmental difficulties. The innovative business leaders rely on advanced technologies to develop environmentally friendly, smart, and efficient systems within renewable energy, together with waste reduction technology. Fast industry growth in sustainable technology demonstrates why sustainable entrepreneurship needs urgent and powerful investment.

To fulfill global net-zero commitments, professionals must keep investing and innovating since these efforts form the backbone of sustainable progress. Support for sustainable products and investments in purposeful initiatives and supportive legislative frameworks come from customers and investors and policymakers, respectively.

Through collaborative efforts, these stakeholders have the power to strengthen the green startup movement, which enables sustainability to naturally blend with economic development and human welfare.

Caste-based census is game-changing, like 'body MRI': VP

New Delhi, May 29 (UNI) :Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar on Thursday described as 'transformative and game-changing' the government's decision to include caste-based enumeration in the upcoming decadal census and said it was like 'getting your body an MRI'.

“The Government has made a great decision. And the decision is to include caste-based enumeration in the upcoming decadal census. It will be a transformative step, game-changing. It will help bring about social justice. It will be an eye-opener. It will satisfy people's aspirations,' the Vice President said addressing the Indian Statistical Service (ISS) Probationers of the 2024 and 2025 batches here.Describing it a 'very broad decision of the government,' he said there was a caste-based census earlier. 'Last time, I think it was conducted in 1931. I looked up to that census many times to know about my caste. I, therefore, realise the importance of caste-based enumeration.”

Dhankhar said far from being divisive, thoughtfully collected caste data would be an instrument of integration. Some people were debating about social justice. It will be an eye-opener. It will satisfy people's aspirations,' the Vice President said addressing

MRI. You will know about it when you stand.'He said this mechanism would transform abstract constitutional commitments to equality into measurable, accountable policy outcomes.The Vice-President drew an analogy to highlight the value of precise and current data in governance saying effective policy planning without robust statistics one could compare it like a surgery in the dark.

India dismisses Mohd Yunus' remarks on 'Indian hegemony' as an exercise in deflection

New Delhi, May 29 (UNI) India today dismissed Bangladesh Chief Advisor Mohd Yunus' comments on "Indian hegemony", terming it as an exercise in "deflection" from his country's challenges.

MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal, answering a question on the issue, said at a briefing:

“Your question was about some statements that have come out recently regarding Bangladesh. So, as far as the government there is concerned, it is their personal responsibility to handle any governmental or governance-related issues or problems there.

“When statements of this sort came it seems like you want to deflect in another direction from your own challenges related to governance there — and to blame others by saying that these extraneous issues caused by others are the reason for these problems — does not solve the issue.”

The spokesperson's remarks come after Yunus reportedly made this remark during a meeting with political parties on May 25.

After that meeting on Sunday, Nagarik Oikya President Mahmudur Rahman Manna had said,

"The chief adviser has said that due to Indian hegemony, the country is facing a major crisis. Therefore, he believes that the entire nation needs to be united."

The MEA spokesperson also said, referring to previous reports of the CA offering to resign:

“On developments in Bangladesh, you know as far as our approach is concerned ... and we remain ... I would like to underline once again that we ... look at how we have approached our issues, our relationship with Bangladesh.

Beauty

We all know how spices like haldi and dhania can rev up a dish, but the culinary benefits apart, did you know spices can also work wonders for the skin and hair?

What your grandmother said has come true, with more people realizing the benefits of Indian spices in fighting acne, clearing clogged pores and enhancing the complexion.

Benefits galore

Several spices can add value to the skin. Says Dr Rashmi Shetty, Mumbai based cosmetologist and anti-ageing expert, "Some of our spices like cardamom, cinnamon, garlic etc are great immune boosters. They have some or the other property which increase metabolic rate and enhance the immune system. When we prepare Indian detox drinks and diets, spices are always used in them, so consuming them orally is also very good for the skin and body. And when it comes to using spices in beauty treatments I find two ingredients to be very useful, coriander and turmeric."

Cinnamon

People are not very aware of it, but cinnamon has some great benefits. It has very good antibacterial properties, it improves blood circulation. It can be used for pimples. Just make a paste of it and apply it on the affected areas on the skin. When applied overall on the face, it will help in skin rejuvenation as it improves blood circulation.

Turmeric

"Turmeric has wonderful anti ageing, antibiotic and antiseptic properties. As a beauty product, it is often used in skin creams also. Every other product touts 'haldi' as an ingredient. It also has good skin lightening properties. It can be used as a facepack along with honey for wonderful results on skin," reveals Dr Shetty. Dermatologist, Dr Madhuri Agarwal, shares a few more:

Coriander seeds

These are very cooling and soothing. If you soak them overnight and use the water as eyes drops, it clears your eye, gives a wonderful cooling effect and makes the eyes look more bright, shiny and more white.

Black pepper

How Indian spices enhance your beauty Treatment

Black pepper is very good for exfoliation. If you make a powder of it and apply a paste on your acne marks and blemishes, it will help exfoliate the affected skin and give it a clearer appearance. It can also help in clearing pimples. A little curd can also be added to black pepper powder and applied for beauty benefits.

Ginger

Ginger can aid in skin rejuvenation and it improves the skin colour and texture. It can be applied as a paste on the skin and left for some time. It will improve skin tone. It is said to reduce blemishes.

Red masoor dal

Though it is not among the spices, this still a great beauty product. It can be used in face packs and has anti-tanning properties. Use it as a body scrub, especially for dry skin. To gain its benefits, make a dry paste of it and add chandan (sandalwood) and haldi (turmeric) and apply this on the skin. Grind masoor dal and store it in an airtight jar for further use in your face packs and pastes.

Be careful

Things to be kept in mind when using these spices:
1. Apply the paste or other mixture correctly. It should not go into the eye. To be safer, avoid the eye and eyebrow area completely.
2. Also, ensure it does not touch the hair as certain spices can bleach the hair.
3. Do a patch test by applying the mixture on the inside of the elbow first, to avoid any redness.

Secrets to make your Fragrance last long

Layer your smell and moisturize your skin to make your fragrance last all day, says an expert.

Ashokkumar, CEO and director of perfume house All Good Scents, shares how:

* Start with a warm shower. Use a shower gel, body wash or a scented soap all over your body and then spray the fragrance once your body becomes dry. When you take warm shower, it causes your pores to open which when you apply the fragrance will soak up the scent better and the fragrance will stay longer as it gets layered on top of a line extension toiletry wash.

* After you have a shower, moisturize your skin with a generous amount of fragrance-free lotion or a body lotion with the same fragrance you use. Moisturized skin blends well with the perfume ensuring long lasting fragrance. On dry skin, the fragrance will dissipate faster.

* Perfumes tend to react with fluctuating body temperature throughout the day and emit scent accordingly. To maximize the smell of your perfume, apply it on your pulse points as they tend to react with warmth of your blood and emit the fragrance accordingly. Wear the perfume on wrist, inside of your elbows, the nape of your neck and on your cleavage. Also, never rub the area where perfume is applied as it breaks down and diminishes the fragrance.

* Depending on the fragrance and the season, it is advisable to spray a little on your clothes too, particularly in winters on your sweaters or pullovers for a longer lasting smell. Thumb rule for spraying - always spray the perfume approximately 15 to 20 cms away from your body. Spraying an even amount of fragrance over a large area will have longer effect than concentrating it over smaller spot on skin.

Another way is to spray the fragrance in air and slowly walk into the mist. This will evenly distribute the fragrance across your body and will last longer too.

England reveal playing XI for first ODI against West Indies

London, May 29 (UNI) : The Birmingham contest will be Harry Brook’s first outing as England’s ODI captain and the newly-appointed skipper will bat at No.4 in a side that looks remarkably different to the one that appeared at the ICC Champions Trophy event in February and March this year.

Pacers Jofra Archer and Mark Wood miss through injury, Phil Salt and Liam Livingstone are omitted and Brook takes over from long-time captain Jos Buttler as the captain.

Buttler remains in the XI and will bat at No.5 and keep wickets, while fellow keeper Jamie Smith is promoted to the top of the order and open the batting alongside consistent left-hander Ben Duckett.

There is also room in the XI for youngster Jacob Bethell and fit-again pacer Brydon Carse, while star spinner Adil Rashid will headline the bowling attack that includes Saqib Mahmood and Jamie Overton. The three-match series is crucial for England as they look to build momentum in 50-over cricket ahead of the next ICC Men’s Cricket World Cup in South Africa, Zimbabwe and Namibia, with the side currently ranked in eighth place on the ICC ODI Team Rankings and in the final direct qualifying position for the 2027 tournament, an ICC report said.

Brook is aiming to help his side find their rhythm against the West Indies and move up the rankings prior to the event. “New era now, new leadership. Hopefully we can bring a lot of energy, competitiveness, and a lot of fun as well out there, try and engage the fans as much as we can - and yeah, try and get some wins under our belt,” Brook said.

England XI: 1. Jamie Smith, 2. Ben Duckett, 3. Joe Root, 4. Harry Brook (c), 5. Jos Buttler (wk), 6. Jacob Bethell, 7. Will Jacks, 8. Jamie Overton, 9. Brydon Carse, 10 Adil Rashid, 11. Saqib Mahmood.

Gukesh checkmates Nakamura at Norway Chess Tournament

Stavanger (Norway), May 29 (UNI) : World Chess Champion GM Gukesh Dommaraju marked his 19th birthday with a vital victory against GM Hikaru Nakamura in the third round of the Norway Chess 2025 tournament here on Wednesday.

After a shaky start to the event with two narrow losses, Gukesh bounced back emphatically, showcasing improved time management and resilience under pressure.

The match, unfolding in the classical time control, featured the Giuoco Piano opening, where Gukesh surprised World No.2 Nakamura early with the aggressive queenside pawn thrust 13.b4!, disrupting Nakamura’s setup. Attempting to counterattack on the kingside, Nakamura came close to salvaging a draw, but a critical misstep with 28...Rd8? gave Gukesh the upper hand.

When Nakamura offered a draw on move 30, Gukesh declined and pressed forward with the move 31.h4!, effectively sealing the game in his favour. Nakamura’s last attempt to turn the tide with 31...Na4! was not played, and instead 31...Qd6? hastened his defeat. Gukesh converted the advantage with calm precision, ultimately securing a hard-fought win.

Reflecting on his performance, Gukesh said, "I feel quite good! I think my time management was much better today than before. He [Nakamura] had some drawing chances, but overall it was a good game." The timing of the victory was particularly poignant, coinciding with midnight in India, allowing fans to celebrate the young champion’s birthday in unison with his triumph.

Gukesh’s win is a significant turnaround after his initial struggles in the tournament, where time pressure and narrow losses threatened to derail his campaign. The victory not only boosts his confidence but also keeps him in contention in the highly competitive field, which includes top grandmasters such as Fabiano Caruana and Magnus Carlsen.

Meanwhile, the tournament’s leaderboard saw Caruana take sole lead after defeating GM Arjun Erigaisi, while Carlsen, despite a frustrating armageddon loss to GM Wei Yi, remains firmly in second place. Norway Chess 2025 continues with round four scheduled for Thursday, promising exciting clashes including a high-stakes encounter between Gukesh and Caruana.

Alex de Minaur suffers shock defeat at French Open

Paris, May 29 (UNI) : Ninth seed Alex de Minaur endured a stunning second-round exit at the French Open on Thursday, surrendering a two-set lead to Kazakhstan’s Alexander Bublik, who triumphed 2-6, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 in a match lasting 2 hours and 52 minutes. De Minaur, ranked World No. 10, appeared poised for a straightforward victory after dominating the first two sets. However, Bublik, known for his unpredictable style, rallied impressively, delivering 12 aces and 51 winners to secure his first win over De Minaur in four attempts.

This defeat marks a significant setback for De Minaur, who reached the quarterfinals at Roland Garros last year. The loss not only ends his streak of four consecutive Grand Slam quarterfinal appearances, but also puts his Top 10 ranking at risk, with a potential drop due to the loss of 350 ranking points. Bublik’s victory propels him into the third round at Roland Garros for the first time, a notable achievement given his previous struggles on clay. He will next face the winner of the match between Portugal’s Henrique Rocha and Czech teenager Jakub Mensik. The 2025 French Open has been rocked by a spate of early upsets, with an unprecedented number of seeded players bowing out before the third round. Alex de Minaur’s dramatic defeat made him the 14th seed to exit prematurely,

Sinner ousts veteran Gasquet in emotional farewell

Paris, May 29 (UNI) : World No. 2 Jannik Sinner delivered a commanding performance to defeat French veteran Richard Gasquet 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 in the second round of the French Open, effectively ending Gasquet’s illustrious career on the clay courts of Roland Garros.

The 22-year-old Italian showcased his dominance early, breaking Gasquet at 3-3 in the first set and maintaining his lead to close it out 6-4. Sinner’s aggressive baseline play and consistent serving kept Gasquet on the defensive, limiting the Frenchman’s opportunities to mount a comeback. In the second set, Sinner elevated his game, breaking Gasquet twice and conceding only three points on his own serve, leading to a swift 6-2 set win. Gasquet, known for his elegant one-handed backhand and smooth court coverage, struggled to find his rhythm against Sinner’s relentless pressure.

The third set saw a brief resurgence from the 38-year-old Gasquet, who broke back to level the set at 2-2, igniting the home fans’ hopes. However, Sinner quickly regained control, breaking again and maintaining his composure to seal the match 6-4. Despite the straight-sets victory, Sinner later acknowledged moments of physical discomfort, particularly due to humid conditions, but said he was able to manage without medical attention.

underscoring the unpredictability that has gripped this year’s tournament on the red clay.

Among the most surprising casualties were two of the tournament’s leading clay-court specialists, Stefanos Tsitsipas and Casper Ruud. Italian qualifier Matteo Gigante produced a career-best performance to stun 20th seed Tsitsipas in four sets, notching his first victory over a top-20 opponent and advancing beyond the second round for the first time. Tsitsipas, a former finalist and semi-finalist at Roland Garros, suffered his earliest exit at the French Open since 2018 and will now watch on as Gigante prepares to face 13th seed Ben Shelton.
