SC defers Shiv Sena symbol case to August

Mumbai/New Delhi, July 14 (UNI) : The Supreme Court has decided to deliver its verdict in the petitions related to the Shiv Sena party name and election symbol in the month of August.

The court firmly instructed the lawyers to stop submitting repeated requests concerning the case. The hearing, which was scheduled for today, was closely followed by people across Maharashtra. ## CM Revanth Reddy distributes new ration cards, attacks BRS for ignoring poor

(Standard Post Bureau)

Suryapet, July 14 : Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy today declared that the ration card is not just a welfare document, but a symbol of the poor's self-respect, identity, and their primary shield against hunger.

Speaking at a massive public meeting in Tirumalagiri, Tungathurthy constituency of Suryapet district, the Chief Minister launched the distribution of new ration cards and launched a sharp attack on the opposition, particularly the previous BRS government.

CM Revanth Reddy said that while the BRS ruled Telangana for a decade, they never thought of issuing new ration cards or providing fine rice to the poor.

"During their rule, ration shops remained shut, while belt shops flourished," he quipped, adding that the Congress government has reversed that trend by reopening ration shops and ensuring that welfare reaches the doorstep of the poor.

He emphasised that ration cards are now being issued to 5.6 lakh new beneficiaries, covering 26 lakh people, with rice being distributed to 3.10 crore citizens in total.

"A ration card is more than a document—it is the dignity and survival tool of the poor," he said.

Highlighting the legacy of Congress, he credited the party with building irrigation projects like Nagarjuna Sagar and Srisailem that brought water to the drought-prone Nalgonda region. He took a jibe at former CM KCR's claim of bringing Godavari water in three days, questioning why nothing was done during BRS's ten-year tenure.

Revanth Reddy listed the welfare achievements under his leadership, including the Rs 2 lakh farmer loan waiver, which he said has benefitted 25 lakh farmers with Rs 21,000 crore waived.

He also said the state deposited Rs. 9,000 crore into farmers' accounts within nine days under the Rythu Bharosa scheme. "We turned agriculture into a festival," he said, adding that Telangana now leads the nation in grain production with 2.85 lakh acres under cultivation.

The CM also spoke about initiatives like the Mahalaxmi scheme, which provides free RTC bus travel to women—a service that has cost the state Rs. 6,500 crore so far.

He announced plans to fill one lakh government jobs in the next two years and said Telangana has already created a record by filling 60,000 posts. The state is also supporting self-help groups with Rs. 21,000 crore in loans and will distribute two sarees each to 65 lakh women. Other development steps include providing buses, setting up petrol stations, and generating 1,000 MW of solar power.

Taking direct aim at BRS leader and former minister

Jagadish Reddy, the CM mocked him for failing to bring water to Tungathurthi even after holding ministerial posts for years.

He ridiculed Reddy's transformation from a leader without "porridge" to one riding in Benz cars. Revanth also questioned the transparency and utility of the Kaleshwaram irrigation project, calling it "Kuleshwaram," and said those responsible for alleged corruption should be held accountable.

Looking ahead, Revanth Reddy spoke of his government's vision for Telangana.

He reaffirmed the Congress party's promise to win future local body elections, continue its rule till 2034, and make Telangana a USD 1 trillion economy.

Govt to launch Nutrition Plan

(Standard Post Bureau)

Hyderabad, July 14 : Women and Child Welfare Minister Dr Danasari Anasuya Seethakka today said that the State government is working in mission mode to build a "Nutritious Telangana," calling for collective efforts from all stakeholders to ensure the health and wellbeing of future generations.

Addressing a state-level consultation meeting organized by the Women and Child Welfare Department at Tourism Plaza, Begumpet, here, Minister Seethakka stated that Anganwadi centers across Telangana will be developed as model institutions for the entire country, in line with Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy's vision and the Telangana Rising-2047 agenda.

The meeting brought together key representatives from national and international institutions including the National Institute of Nutrition (NIN), Indian Institute of Millet Research, CFTRI (Mysuru), AIIMS, ICRISAT, and UNICEF. NGOs like Pratham, Andhra Mahila Sabha, HARMAN, and Bala Raksha Bharati, along with senior officials from Civil Supplies, Education, TG Foods, SERP, and I&PR departments, also participated and offered valuable inputs.

After hearing the suggestions and experiences of stakeholders, Minister Seethakka announced that a comprehensive "Telangana Nutrition Plan" would be formulated to address the nutritional needs of all vulnerable sections, especially children, pregnant and lactating women, and adolescent girls.

She highlighted unique nutrition initiatives such as the provision of 200 ml Vijaya milk daily, egg biryani twice a week, and nutrient-rich palli and cereal bars to teenage girls—initiatives that distinguish Telangana from other states. "Unlike BJP-ruled states that have halted the supply of eggs in Anganwadis, our government has launched special programs to tackle malnutrition in Telangana," she said. She also expressed concern over malnutrition among children in a state that is otherwise progressing in all sectors, adding that a large-scale awareness campaign will be launched in collaboration with NGOs and women self-help groups.

Seethakka further stated that mobile Anganwadi centers will be introduced in areas lacking infrastructure, particularly targeting children of migrant workers in Hyderabad.

These mobile units will ensure that nutritious food is delivered to underserved communities at least twice a week.

Lashkar bonalu 'Rangam' ritual: Oracle predicts bountiful rains

Hyderabad, July 14 (UNI) : In a significant spiritual moment during the grand conclusion of the Lashkar Bonalu festival at the historic Ujjaini Mahankali temple in Secunderabad, Oracle Swarnalatha predicted that Telangana will receive good rainfall this year.

Participating in the traditional 'Rangam' ritual, where divine messages are conveyed through oracles, Swarnalatha assured devotees that abundant rains will bless the state, aiding agriculture and bringing joy to the people. "This year too, there will be good rains.

I will ensure that everyone is happy," she declared when temple priests requested blessings for a fruitful monsoon.

However, in an emotionally charged prophecy, she also voiced concerns over the neglect of proper rituals and warned of possible consequences. "Every year, my pujas are obstructed... I am not being worshipped properly. That is why deaths are increasing," she cautioned, while emphasising her role in protecting the people.

She urged devotees to conduct traditional offerings with sincerity and cautioned against ignoring divine instructions.

prominent political figure from West Bengal, hails from Howrah and served as the West Bengal BJP state president from 1999 to 2002. His political career spans both academia and grassroots politics. During his tenure as West Bengal BJP chief, the party was still establishing its foothold in a state dominated by the Left Front. Despite limited electoral success at the time, Ghosh was credited with strengthening the BJP's organizational base in Bengal. His gubernatorial appointment may be symbolic of the BJP central leadership's continued recognition of leaders who helped lay the party's foundations in eastern India. # RBI to wait for stronger growth signals before rate cut as inflation cools

The further softening of the CPI inflation in June to 2.10 per cent -- lowest year-on-year inflation recorded since January 2019 -- gives the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) significant room to manoeuvre but we do not expect an immediate policy pivot in August, economists said.

The RBI monetary policy committee (MPC) is likely to hold rates and wait for stronger growth signals — particularly from investment and export activity — before calibrating further action, said Arsh Mogre, economist, PL Capital. “The current real policy rate of +340 bps (repo at 5.50 per cent vs CPI at 2.10 per cent) is already highly restrictive by both historical and global EM standards. However, the central bank may prefer to validate the durability of food disinflation across July–September and monitor the kharif sowing and rainfall trajectory before signalling the next round of easing,” said Mogre. A rate cut in October remains the base case, contingent on continued inflation moderation and external stability. In sum, the macro narrative is transitioning from anchoring inflation to assessing the timing and depth of growth support, according to experts. The CPI inflation is following a continuously easing trajectory, from 6.2 per cent in October 2024 to 5.4 per cent in November 2024, to 5.2 per cent in December 2024, 4.26 per cent in January 2025, 2.82 per cent in May 2025 and now 2.10 per cent in June, posing a decline of 72 basis points in headline inflation of June 2025 in comparison to May 2025. This has provided a substantial boost to households, businesses and India’s growth, said Hemant Jain, President of industry chamber PHDCCI.

The significant decline in headline inflation and food inflation during the month of June is mainly attributed to decline in inflation of vegetables, pulses and products, meat and fish, cereals and products, sugar and confectionery, milk and products and spices.

“Moving ahead, assuming a normal monsoon, CPI inflation is expected to remain well within the RBI’s target band,” said Jain. Despite concerns over uneven monsoon spatiality in June, the impact on prices remains contained as mandi arrivals remained robust, especially in pulses, onions, and oilseeds, said experts.

According to Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist at ICRA, Kharif sowing is up by a robust 6.6 per cent which augurs well for containing food prices.

“ICRA expects the headline CPI inflation to recede further and bottom out at 1.9 per cent in July 2025, despite an unfavourable base,” Nayar mentioned.

Advanced Treatments Like MRgFUS, DBS, and Botox Offer Hope

(Standard Post Bureau)

Tremors in hands and legs, difficulty in walking, unsteady steps, and slurred speech are not always caused by Parkinson’s disease alone. There are multiple other underlying conditions that can lead to such movement disorders, and treatment approaches should be based on both the root cause and the severity of the symptoms, according to several national-level medical experts.

The significance of this understanding was emphasized at the “Practical Neurology – 2025” Advances in movement disorders conference, held on Sunday under the guidance of the Neurosciences Department of KIMS Hospitals, one of Hyderabad’s leading medical institutions. The event aimed to raise awareness especially among neurologists and neurosurgeons working in Tier-2 cities and towns, who often encounter such cases in clinical practice.

The conference was inaugurated by Dr. Bollineni Bhaskar Rao, Chairman and Managing Director of KIMS Hospitals, Dr. Mohan Das, Chief Consultant Neurologist; and Dr. Manas Kumar Panigrahi, Head of the Neurosurgery Department and Senior Consultant Neurosurgeon. More than 200 neurologists and neurosurgeons from Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, and Maharashtra attended the session. Medical experts explained that various neurological conditions such as Chorea, Dystonia, Atypical Parkinson’s Syndromes, and Wilson’s Disease can also cause movement-related issues. They noted that treatment should be tailored according to the specific diagnosis and its intensity. Among all the available therapies, MRgFUS

(Magnetic Resonance-guided Focused Ultrasound) has emerged as one of the most advanced and fast-acting options. When patients understand this procedure and opt for it, results can often be seen immediately—sometimes as soon as they get up from the treatment table. So far, KIMS Hospitals has successfully treated 19 patients using MRgFUS, and their video testimonials, describing their recovery journeys, were showcased during the conference.

In addition to MRgFUS, Deep Brain Stimulation (DBS) was also discussed as an effective therapy for certain movement disorders. Furthermore, in some specific cases, Botox injections have proven to be highly successful in reducing symptoms, offering another valuable treatment path. The event was organized by Dr. M. Jayasree, Consultant Neurologist and Movement Disorder Specialist at KIMS, who served as the Organizing Secretary. Several senior doctors from KIMS, including Dr. Subhash Kaul, Dr. Gopalakrishna, Dr. Seetha Jayalakshmi, Dr. Varalakshmi, Dr. Praveen Kumar Yada, and Dr. Anuja Patil, were actively involved in the discussions.

Renowned neurologists and neurosurgeons from across India also participated and spoke about these evolving treatments. These included Dr. Mohit Bhatt from Kokilaben Dhirubhai Ambani Hospital in Mumbai, Dr. Kalyan B. Bhattacharya from Medica Hospital in Kolkata, Dr. Hrishikesh Kumar from the Institute of Neurosciences, Kolkata, Dr. Rupa Rajan from AIIMS New Delhi, Dr. Pramod Pal from NIMHANS Bengaluru, Dr. L.K. Prashanth from the Parkinson’s and Movement Disorders Clinic in Bengaluru, Dr. K.P. Divya from SCTIMST in Thiruvananthapuram, Dr. Neeraj Kumar from AIIMS Bibinagar, and Dr. Rupam Borgohain and Dr. Rukmini Mridula from Yashoda Hospitals, Hitech City.

The conference served as a platform for sharing critical knowledge about the latest treatment methods for movement disorders, encouraging doctors to adopt innovative approaches and offer faster, more effective solutions to patients suffering from debilitating neurological conditions.

A ‘Viksit Gaon’ is an achievable reality: Chandrasekhar

New Delhi, July 14 (UNI) : Calling for a renewed focus on grassroots development, Union Minister of State for Rural Development Dr Pemmasani Chandrasekhar has noted that a ‘Viksit Gaon’ where every family has a pucca house with basic amenities, every youth is employed, and every woman is economically empowered is not a distant dream — it is an achievable reality.

Speaking at the first Performance Review Committee meeting of the Ministry of Rural Development here, Dr Chandrasekhar underscored the critical role of the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGS) in building a ‘Viksit Gaon’ as the foundation for a ‘Viksit Bharat’ by 2047, according to a statement here today.

He said rural development schemes are no longer just welfare measures but essential engines driving the nation’s inclusive growth story under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Cabinet Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan.

Among flagship initiatives, MGNREGS stood out prominently in the Minister’s address. Describing it as “the strongest weapon against rural unemployment and distress migration”, Dr Chandrasekhar highlighted the scheme’s continuing relevance, particularly during agricultural lean seasons.

With an annual investment between Rs 90,000 and Rs 1,00,000 crore, MGNREGS has generated over 250 crore person-days of work each year. More than 36 crore job cards have been issued so far, and over 15 crore workers remain active beneficiaries, said the statement.

However, the Minister stressed the need to transition beyond mere wage payments. He called for a shift towards meaningful and durable asset creation, diversified work categories to ensure productivity, greater convergence with other developmental schemes, and enhanced community participation in selecting and planning work.

“The true potential of MGNREGS lies in its ability to create productive infrastructure that sustains rural livelihoods over time,” he said. In his review, Dr. Chandrasekhar also provided updates on several other key schemes stating that under PMAY-Gramin, over 3.22 crore pucca houses have been constructed so far. An additional 2 crore houses are targeted by 2029. The Minister called for the use of eco-friendly, region-specific technologies and cost-effective housing designs, he said. Similarly, PMGSY has ensured that more than 7.56 lakh km of rural roads are built. The Minister proposed setting up state-level road maintenance funds and encouraging community-based monitoring for improved sustainability. Under the DAY-NRLM, over 10.05 crore rural women have been mobilised into 91 lakh Self Help Groups (SHGs), with cumulatively achieved bank linkages worth over Rs 11 lakh crore.

Centre informs SC it has exhausted all options to save Kerala nurse facing death sentence in Yemen

New Delhi, July 14 (UNI) : The Central government today informed the Supreme Court that it has exhausted all possible diplomatic and legal options to save Kerala nurse Nimisha Priya, who has been sentenced to death in Yemen for the murder of a Yemeni national.

A Bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta was hearing a plea filed by the Save Nimisha Priya International Action Council, seeking directions to the Centre to use diplomatic channels to secure her release.

Appearing for the Centre, Attorney General (AG) R Venkataramani stated, “Negotiating link has also been done. There is a point till which the Government of India can go. We have reached it. We also told the public prosecutor if the execution could be suspended. But it has not worked out. Nothing matters to the Yemen government.

“We did not go much public about it. We also got involved with a sheikh influential there. It did not work out.

“We got an informal communication that execution would be put in abeyance but we don’t know if it will work out. This is not an area where government can be asked to do something beyond defined limit.”

The AG further submitted that the government had explored all methods, including negotiations, but nothing has worked so far.

During the hearing, Justice Mehta noted that the petitioner claimed to have arranged blood money, the compensation payable to the deceased’s family under Yemeni law to secure release from execution. However, the AG responded: “They say it is a question of honour and we don’t accept. We don’t know if it changes with more money. But as of now it is at standstill.” Senior Advocate Raghenath Basant, appearing for the petitioner organisation, stated, “Good samaritans are not able to do anything since it is Yemen.” The AG replied, “Yes, nothing is happening. Problem is we can’t say ‘please do it’ and they will listen to us.”

The petitioner’s counsel also submitted that they were willing to pay a higher amount of blood money if that could resolve the matter. The AG informed the court that the Joint Secretary from the Ministry of External Affairs was present and briefing him.

He added: “There is a communication even at 10:30 am requesting for suspending the sentence. But nothing has happened.

This may even prove counterproductive. These are highly confidential matters.”

The Court recorded the submissions and adjourned the matter to July 18, directing, “We have heard the AG. List on Friday. Let parties inform us the status.” The Supreme Court was hearing the plea filed in Save Nimisha Priya International Action Council v. Union of India.

Nimisha Priya, who was working as a nurse in Yemen, was convicted for the murder of Yemeni citizen Talal Abdo Mahdi. Her appeal against the conviction was earlier rejected by the Yemeni Supreme Court. Nimisha Priya is facing the death sentence in Yemen for the alleged murder of the Yemeni national in 2017. According to case records, Priya, who was working as a nurse in Yemen, was allegedly subjected to torture and assault by the Yemeni man. It has been stated that to retrieve her passport, which was in his possession, she attempted to sedate him. However, an overdose of the sedative reportedly caused his death. The present PIL, filed by the Save Nimisha Priya International Action Council, seeks directions to the Central government to take urgent diplomatic steps to secure her release and save her from execution.

Over 30 killed in clashes in Syria’s Suwayda: Ministry

Beirut, July 14 (UNI) : More than 30 people have been killed in clashes in the mostly Druze-populated southernmost Syrian province of Suwayda over the past two days, while more than 100 others have been injured, the Syrian Defense Ministry said on Monday.

"It is with deep sorrow and concern that we are following the tragic events in Suwayda province. Over the past two days, more than 30 people have been killed and more than a hundred injured in a number of districts and towns," the statement read.

The ministry said that lack of effective government institutions on the ground had contributed to the chaos and prevented security forces and troops from intervening quickly to curb violence.

The Ministry of Defence and the Interior Ministry sent troops to the south, the department said. Safe corridors for civilians were created. The government called on the sides to the conflict to cooperate with the army and exercise restraint, saying that further escalation would only increase the suffering of civilians.The Ministry called on employees working in conflict zones to strictly fulfill their duties, meaning to protect citizens and prevent new violations.

Leaked Treasury advice urges Australian gov't to raise taxes

Canberra, July 14 (UNI) : Australian Treasurer Jim Chalmers says he is not concerned about the accidental publication of advice that recommended the federal government raise taxes.

The confidential advice, which was prepared by the independent Treasury and provided to the governing Labor Party following the May 3 general election, was mistakenly sent to the Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC) and published on Monday.It advised the government that it must find additional taxation revenue and reduce spending in order to achieve a "sustainable" federal budget.

Additionally, it said that Labor's key promise to build 1.2 million new homes over a five-year span between 2024 and 2029 will not be met and briefed Chalmers on the consequences for Australia if there is a global loss of confidence in the U.S. dollar or the independence of the U.S. Federal Reserve.

Speaking at a press conference on Monday morning, Chalmers said that the documents were sent to the ABC in error and that he is "pretty relaxed" about the leak.He said that the government has already made it "really clear" that more needs to be done to make the economy more productive and more resilient and that tax reform will be discussed when he hosts experts, business leaders and trade unions in Canberra for a landmark three-day economic summit.

Chalmers conceded that the government will fall short of its housing target on the current trajectory but said that the target can still be met.

A report published by the National Housing Supply and Affordability Council in May forecast that 938,000 dwellings would be built over the five-year period.

India hopes zero tolerance for terrorism will be strongly upheld: Jaishankar

Beijing, July 14 (IANS) : A day ahead of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Council of Foreign Ministers' Meeting (CFM) in Tianjin, External Affairs Minister (EAM) S. Jaishankar on Monday stated that the "primary mandate" of the grouping is to "combat terrorism, separatism and extremism".

"Tomorrow, we will be meeting in the format of the SCO, whose primary mandate is to combat terrorism, separatism and extremism. This is a shared concern and India hopes that zero tolerance for terrorism will be strongly upheld," the EAM said in his opening remarks during a meeting with Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi on Monday.

Last month, the SCO Defence Ministers' Meeting held at Qingdao could not adopt a Joint Statement after India's concerns on terrorism did not reflect in the document.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, who had attended the meeting, had laid down the broad contours of India's transitional shift in its policy against terrorism and had also called upon the member countries to unite in eliminating the menace for collective safety and security."I understand that they could not adopt a Joint Statement. I also understand that member countries could not reach consensus on certain issues and hence the document could not be finalised. On our side, India wanted concerns on terrorism reflected in the document, which was not acceptable to one particular country, and therefore the statement was not adopted," the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal had said during a regular media briefing held in New Delhi on June 26.

On June 24, while spotlighting the barbaric Pahalgam terror attack and India's subsequent Operation Sindoor to dismantle terror infrastructure across the border, National Security Advisor Ajit Doval had also called for the urgent need to shun double standards in the fight against terrorism and take decisive actions against UN-proscribed terrorists and entities.

Addressing the 20th meeting of the Security Council Secretaries of the SCO Member States in Beijing, NSA Doval had said that India is deeply concerned about continued threat from terror groups designated by United Nations Security Council (UNSC),including Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT), Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM) — two of the most dangerous and state-supported terror outfits operating out of Pakistan - besides Al Qaeda, ISIS and its affiliates.

In his intervention, he highlighted the need to shun double standards in the fight against terrorism and take decisive actions against UN-proscribed terrorists and entities like LeT, JeM and their proxies and dismantle their terror eco-systems.

Reiterating that any act of terror including cross border terrorism is a crime against humanity, India had called on SCO members to hold accountable the perpetrators, organisers, financiers and sponsors of acts of cross border terror and to help bring them to justice.

agricultural republic into a military testing ground. ## France doubles military spending, targets 64 billion euros by 2027

Paris, July 14 (UNI) : In light of the NATO and the EU's decision to increase its military budget, citing security issues amid the Russia-Ukraine war and Moscow's increasing foothold into Ukrainian territory, French President Emmanuel Macron announced a significant increase in the country's military budget, stating that it will rise to 64 billion euros ($74.8 billion) by 2027- double the level of 2017.

"In 2017, the military budget was 32 billion Euros. According to our law on military planning, we agreed to double it by 2030. But we will do it by 2027. This will be a new historic effort. By 2027, our military budget will double to 64 billion euros," Macron said in his annual address to the French Armed Forces today on the eve of the national holiday, Bastille Day, which was broadcast on the official Elysee Palace account on X.

"To be free in this world, you must be feared. To be feared, you must be powerful," he added, stating the world was witnessing the return of nuclear power and the "proliferation of major conflicts," reports BBC.

Germany will not send Taurus missiles to Ukraine: Defence Minister

Moscow, July 14 (UNI) : The German authorities will not send Taurus missiles or Patriot air defense systems to Ukraine, despite Ukraine's "renewed request", German Defense Minister Boris Pistorius said in an interview with the Financial Times.

"We only have six [Patriot systems] left in Germany," Pistorius told the newspaper. "That's really too few, especially considering the NATO capability goals we have to meet. We definitely can't give any more."

Germany already gave Ukraine three such systems, two others had been lent to Poland and at least one was always unavailable due to maintenance or training, he explained.

The minister noted that he would meet with Pentagon chief Pete Hegseth in Washington today. During the meeting, the roadmap for ensuring European security by the United States will be discussed. According to Pistorius, the ministers will also discuss the sale of two Patriot systems to Germany by the United States, intended for Ukraine.

The Minister further said that Germany is also working on a "purchase plan" for military equipment by the country until the 2030s, which will include the purchase of tanks, submarines, drones and fighter jets.Earlier, army," he said, as per Khmer News.Under the Law on Compulsory Military Service, all Cambodian male citizens between 18 and 30 years old are obliged to register for and fulfill military service for 18 months.

Trump greenlights weapons consignment, including Patriot missiles, for Ukraine

Washington, July 14 (UNI) : US President Donald Trump has reportedly unveiled a new weapons package for Ukraine which will contain more offensive weapons, after earlier announcing that he has greenlit shipments for Kyiv which were stopped for a while due to domestic shortages and shifting strategic priorities.

"We basically are going to send them various pieces of very sophisticated military. They're going to pay us 100% for them," Trump pointed out, adding that the issue would be discussed at his meeting with NATO Secretary General Mark Rutte in Washington today, reports Axios News.

Regarding the supply of Patriot missiles which are at a critical low in Ukraine, Trump didn't say much, stating "I haven't agreed on the number yet, but they're going to have some because they do need protection. But the European Union is paying for it. We're not paying anything for it, but we will send it. It will be business for us, and we will send them Patriots."

The scheme was reportedly proposed by Ukrainian President

Volodymyr Zelensky during the NATO summit two weeks ago. Trump and Zelensky, who met on the sidelines of the summit ended discussions on a positive note, with the White House stating that it was a very productive meeting.

US officials noted that the shipment was a strategic move from Washington's side to pressure Russian President Vladimir Putin to come to agreements on a peace proposal, after he declined an earlier settlement offer during a phone call with the US President.

Noting that Trump has become increasingly frustrated with Moscow's unwillingness to come to a peace proposal and continue hostilities, a US official stated that his weapons package approval was fuelled by this very frustration.

“Trump is really pissed at Putin. His announcement tomorrow is going to be very aggressive.”

Putin has indicated that over the next 60 days he would make a renewed push to occupy territory up to the administrative lines of the Ukrainian regions in which Russia has a significant foothold.

Germany will not send Taurus missiles to Ukraine: Defence Minister

Moscow, July 14 (UNI) : The German authorities will not send Taurus missiles or Patriot air defense systems to Ukraine, despite Ukraine's "renewed request", German Defense Minister Boris Pistorius said in an interview with the Financial Times.

"We only have six [Patriot systems] left in Germany," Pistorius told the newspaper. "That's really too few, especially considering the NATO capability goals we have to meet. We definitely can't give any more."

According to Pistorius, the ministers will also discuss the sale of two Patriot systems to Germany by the United States, intended for Ukraine.

The Minister further said that Germany is also working on a "purchase plan" for military equipment by the country until the 2030s, which will include the purchase of tanks, submarines, drones and fighter jets.Earlier,

German Chancellor Friedrich Merz said that Berlin would support Ukraine in developing its own long-range systems against the backdrop of the lifting of restrictions on strikes on Russian territory, agreed upon, according to Merz, with the United States, the United Kingdom and France.

Later, the chancellor noted that the decision had been made several months ago. After a visit to Germany, Volodymyr Zelenskyy said in an interview with the RTL broadcaster that Kyiv and Berlin were working on the issue of Taurus supplies, but declined to disclose details.

Russian President Vladimir Putin, during a meeting with representatives of international news agencies at the SPIEF in June, said that the use of Taurus missiles would damage relations between Russia and Germany, but would not affect the course of military action.

Russian Ambassador to Germany Sergey Nechayev previously said that Russia would closely monitor Berlin's specific actions regarding the transfer of Taurus missiles to Ukraine and training of the Ukrainian Armed Forces in their use.

Russia believes that arms supplies to Ukraine hinder the settlement of the conflict and directly involve NATO countries in it.

Double delight for Rohaan Madesh, Shiv Neel, Eshanth Vengatesan, Rivaan Dev Preetham notch wins

Coimbatore, July 14 (UNI) : Bengaluru's Rohaan Madesh (Peregrine Racing) came up with a brilliant drive to top the Senior Max category in the first round of the MECO-FMSCI National Karting Championship Rotax Max Classes with SIDVIN Energy Engineering as the Presenting Sponsor and MRF Tyres as the partner sponsor, at the CoASTT circuit here on Sunday.

Also topping their respective classes were a trio of MSPORT team drivers, Chennai's Eshanth Vengatesan in the Junior Max, Rivaan Dev Preetam, also from Chennai, in the Mini Max and Shiv Neel from Coimbatore who notched a double by winning the Pre-Finals and Finals races in the Micro Max.

Rohaam Madesh's skills were put to acid test in the Finals as he stoutly defended his P1 spot despite close attention from Mumbai's Aahil Mecklai (Rayo Racing) who had to settle for second place ahead of Bengalurean Rishon Rajeev (Birel Art India).

Having also won the Pre-Finals earlier, Rohaan, thus, completed a fine double. Incidentally, the Senior Max attracted Asia's biggest grid of 34 drivers.

Meanwhile, Eshanth Vengatesan benefitted after front-runners Pune's Arafath Sheikh (Crest Motorsports) and Rayo Racing's Kiaan Shah from Mumbai, who had earlier won the Pre-Finals, collided midway through the 14-lap Junior Max Finals. Vengatesan capitalised on the incident to move from P3 to P1 and went on to clinch victory ahead of Sheikh while Bengaluru's Rishik Rohit Reddy (MSPORT) delivered a stunning third place after starting the race from 16th on the grid, but subsequently received a five-second "bumper" penalty which pushed him to fourth while elevating Bengaluru's Thimmaiah Yohan (Peregrine Racing) to third.

Rivaan Dev Preetam made amends for his disappointing Pre-Final performance to snatch a fine win in the Mini Max Finals after jumping into the lead in the very first lap.

Rivaan, who had finished third in the Pre-Final race earlier today, never looked back for a comfortable victory while behind him Faridabad's Yatharth Gaur (Leapfrog Racing), winner of the Pre-Finals race, finished second, ahead of Mumbai's Hamza Balasinorwala (Crest Motorsports). Earlier, in the Pre-Finals, Yatharth Gaur pulled off a fine win over favourite Rivaan Dev Preetham who couldn't defend his pole position and yielded to pressure after leading till the 11th lap, to eventually finish third. Hamza Balasinorwala also moved past Rivaan to finish second.

Washington Sundar's scalps soon followed. Nitish Kumar Reddy and Ravindra Jadeja approached the game with caution and were very calm and composed in front of a fired-up England side.

However, disaster struck for India as Reddy was dismissed by Chris Woakes in the final over of the session, prompting the umpire to signal lunch.

"It was wonderful. England were superb. Led by Stokes, led by Archer. Passion, energy, getting stuck in - everything about the theatre of Test match cricket that we love. India couldn't cope with it, really."

"He has had a long time out of the game, but the emotions he will be getting from bowling spells like this - running in, crowd roaring, Test match on the line - [are great]," said Broad on Sky Sports.

Markram said, "It is a privilege to receive this award. To contribute to an ICC World Test Championship win for our team and South Africa is something that means a lot to me." "Winning the final at Lord's is a historic moment for South African cricket, and it is something we will remember forever. This victory was only possible due to the combined efforts of the entire team, with crucial contributions from KG (Kagiso Rabada) and Tembs (Temba Bavuma)," he said. Matthews said, "It's an honour to receive the Player of the Month award again. I've been pleased with my form recently, but more importantly, it's been great to contribute to the team's success—especially in a hard-fought T20I series against South Africa."

"Recognition like this is appreciated, but my focus remains on what's ahead. There's a lot more I want to achieve, both personally and with this team. We're heading in the right direction, and I'm excited about where we can go from here," she added.

India could not cope with theatrics on Day 5, says Broad

London, July 14 (IANS) : Former England fast bowler Stuart Broad believes India could not cope with the theatre of Test match cricket after losing four wickets in the morning session of the Lord's Test on Monday.

After Jofra Archer uprooted Rishabh Pant's stumps, K.L. Rahul and

Washington Sundar's scalps soon followed. Nitish Kumar Reddy and Ravindra Jadeja approached the game with caution and were very calm and composed in front of a fired-up England side.

However, disaster struck for India as Reddy was dismissed by Chris Woakes in the final over of the session, prompting the umpire to signal lunch.

"It was wonderful. England were superb. Led by Stokes, led by Archer. Passion, energy, getting stuck in - everything about the theatre of Test match cricket that we love. India couldn't cope with it, really."

"He has had a long time out of the game, but the emotions he will be getting from bowling spells like this - running in, crowd roaring, Test match on the line - [are great]," said Broad on Sky Sports.

Broad was also full of praise for Archer, who is playing his first Test match in four years, as he delivered with the crucial wickets of Yashasvi Jaiswal on Day 4, followed by Pant and Sundar's scalps on the final day of the Test.

"Test match cricket is about bringing theatre, and Jofra did all of that. It was Test cricket led by a guy who has missed a lot of Test cricket.

"When he is wearing that England shirt, you can tell how much he is thriving and enjoying the ultimate form of the game. He was having a few words with the batters as well, and that may cost him a few quid," he added. At lunch, India will need to score 81 runs if they hope to win the Lord's Test; England, on the other hand, will need to take two wickets to go ahead in the series.

MRI Scan equipment ensures safe and reliable train operations

(Standard Post Bureau)
Visakhapatnam, July 14 : Indian Railways has adopted Measuring, Recording, and Instrumentation (MRI) equipment as part of its ongoing commitment to safety and efficiency in electric traction operations. This state-of-the-art technology can be retrofitted onto Tower Cars to continuously monitor and record critical parameters of Overhead Equipment (OHE), such as contact wire stagger, contact wire height, and the precise positioning of traction distribution assets using GPS data. In today's environment, accurate and real-time monitoring of these parameters is essential to prevent pantograph entanglement with OHE, a major cause of service disruptions. Waltair Division of East Coast Railway has also adopted this technology thus by ensuring safety and punctuality of the train operations. Divisional Railway Manager Shri Lalit Bohra said that the Pantograph maintenance has long posed challenges for electric trains. The pantograph, mounted on the rooftop of locomotives, is vital for maintaining uninterrupted contact with the overhead catenary that supplies power to the train. Traditional manual inspections, typically performed at depots, may not always detect emerging faults in time, potentially leading to overhead wiring failures, extended delays, costly repairs, and significant safety risks. To address these challenges, Indian Railways is leveraging MRI technology to enable real-time monitoring and proactive maintenance of pantographs and OHE. Senior Divisional Electrical Engineer (TRD) Shri Shivanad Prasad opined that with the deployment of MRI scan equipment can swiftly analyze any changes in OHE parameters resulting from engineering works, modernization efforts, or routine maintenance. Any abnormalities detected can be addressed promptly, helping to prevent incidents such as pantograph entanglements or conductor separations, which can severely disrupt train operations.
